

C. OF C. TO HAVE A SECRETARY

President Joseph Herbert and Treasurer C. R. O'Connor have been appointed a committee by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to confer with the American City Bureau and secure a temporary secretary of the organization for the summer months to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Secretary Ed. M. Heermans.

It is understood that no steps will be taken towards appointing a permanent secretary until fall, or until a capable man can be secured for the office.

Secretary Heermans left Kingston the Chamber of Commerce rooms have been left in charge of a stenographer and President Herbert keeps in touch with the office at all times.

W. S. S. OFFICERS AT ELLENVILLE

To Give Campaign There a Grand Start—"Get Together" Meetings in This District—McAdoo Urges Railroad Men to Subscribe.

County Chairman Brinnier, Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck and William C. DeWitt are in Ellenville today giving the working forces drafted in that town to carry on the war savings stamp drive, which begins on Saturday next, a grand start, helping them organize to put on the work, supplying them with literature and instructing the captains and teams. The Kingston men are putting the spirit of success into the campaign in every town they've been in and at Ellenville today reports are that never was the prospects for carrying out a campaign in any way so favorable as there. The organization of shop and business societies has been largely effected, many of the large industrial concerns and stores having effective and active members who will devote their energies and invest to the limit of their ability to make Ellenville a strong competitor with Saugerties in the comparative results obtained in those respective towns.

At Stone Ridge, where the same gentlemen helped light up enthusiasm they found conditions much brighter than might have been expected. Mrs. Charles E. Haddenburgh is the chairlady and her capacity for putting ginger in the workers she is commanding is unlimited, is immeasurable.

Tonight these get together meetings will be held at East Kingston, Highland and New Paltz.

Tomorrow night at Ulster Park and two meetings at Walkkill.

On Saturday night at Gardiner, Clintondale and Woodstock.

On Monday night at Marlborough. A powerfully urgent letter received from Secretary McAdoo, Director General of the United States Railroad Administration, is given out as a strong appeal to the railroad employees throughout the union to invest liberally in War Savings Stamps and it is expected that this official communication will show great results in Ulster, for the railroad employees living in this county are numerous.

Already, as the secretary writes, the railroad employees have subscribed liberally in the third issue of Liberty Bonds, which he says is very gratifying to him.

"A large number of railroad employees," he writes, "will receive substantial amounts of back payments as the result of the increased pay authorized by general order No. 27 which are to be made in payments of amounts for each of the months from January to June as soon as they can be computed."

"I earnestly urge every railroad employee who has thus secured increases of pay," continues the letter, "to invest as much as he possibly can in the War Savings Stamps."

The director general points out that these War Savings Stamps "are not only an investment of the safest and best quality but they accrue interest at the rate of four per cent per annum compounded quarterly."

and that every man who invests in War Savings Stamps, can get his money back in full from the government at any time upon ten days' notice, and with interest at a rate somewhat less than four per cent if he requests payment before the maturity of the stamps. If he keeps the stamps until their maturity, namely until the first of January 1923, he will receive his money back in full with interest added at the rate of four per cent per annum compounded quarterly."

Auxiliary Gifts.

A few gifts coming in every day are gradually swelling the sum total of the fund being raised by the auxiliary of the city hospital. Names of donors yesterday are: Mrs. A. V. Kenyon, George T. McKens of Tannersville, B. V. Solon of Edenville, Mrs. Frank B. Seeley, Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. William Van Kuren, Miss Martha Fuller, Mrs. Edward Voeber.

Gov. Whitman in Saugerties.

Governor Charles S. Whitman has been secured to address a patriotic rally in the interest of the W. S. S. drive in Saugerties Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The rally will be held in front of the high school building in that village.

PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR CANFIELD

Urges Citizens to Pledge Themselves to Buy War Savings Stamps—June 28 Is National War Savings Day.

To the Citizens of Kingston:

Whereas, the President of the United States has summoned the American people to invest to their maximum capacity up to one thousand dollars in War Savings Stamps, and that more man-power and material may be available for the support of the Army and Navy of the United States in time to win the war; and

Whereas, the Governor of the State of New York, at the instance of the Federal Government, has designated June 28th, 1918, between the hours of noon and ten o'clock p. m. as a day when all adults shall appear in person, or by proxy of a previously signed War Savings Pledge Card, at the proper designated place of registration to register pledges to save and economize to help win the war; and as a minimum fulfillment of such pledges to invest in a specified amount of War Savings Certificates during the remaining months of 1918; and

Whereas, the United States Government must sell and dispose of two billion dollars worth of such certificates prior to January 1st next, of which the people of Ulster County are called upon to invest in one million and four hundred thousand dollars worth, and of which the people of the City of Kingston must provide for its just proportion; and

Whereas, the War Savings Committee of the County of Ulster, Hon. William D. Brinnier, Chairman, pursuant to the urgent requirements of the United States Treasury and at the request of the State Director for War Savings, has prepared during the week of June 22nd to June 28th, to take pledges from all the people of the City of Kingston and the County of Ulster for investment in War Savings Certificates, the same to be registered on National War Savings Day;

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the request of the National State Governments and of the County Committee, I do call upon all loyal citizens of the City of Kingston to pledge themselves to buy War Savings Stamps to help win the war, and I urge all citizens to promote the sale of such stamps in large amounts, and that all who are able should pledge themselves to invest to the limit allowed by law, being the maturity value of one thousand dollars; and that all pledges be registered on June 28th next, National War Savings Day; and that the following places be and are hereby designated as the respective places of registration in the city of Kingston to register pledges, to-wit:

W. S. S. WORKERS MEET SATURDAY

Big W. S. S. Drive Opens Saturday and Workers Meet at "Y" That Evening to Make First Reports—Will be Success.

The big W. S. S. drive officially opens on Saturday, and the first meeting will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., when the workers will make their first reports. In Kingston a house to house canvass will be made. The city has been laid out in blocks and workers assigned to cover each block. The campaign will be carried out along the other big drives.

In the county districts a thorough canvass will also be made. The Flying Squadron, headed by Postmaster DeWitt, have received requests from various rural communities to hold rallies. Last evening one was held at Stone Ridge. This evening meetings will be held at East Kingston, Highland and New Paltz. Other meetings as follows:

June 21—Ulster Park and two meetings at Walkkill.

June 22—Gardiner, Clintondale and Woodstock.

June 24—Modena.

June 25—Open air rally at Marlborough.

Wins Pratt Scholarship.

Word has been received in this city that Miss Ruth C. Kelsey, daughter of the late Frederick C. Kelsey and Mrs. Kelsey, formerly of this city, and now of Brooklyn, has won a scholarship in the department in designing and commercial illustrating at Pratt Institute, a considerable honor. Moreover Miss Kelsey is the youngest student at present in the art department of Pratt Institute.

This gratifying news, coming so closely upon the announcement of the drawing exhibitions in our public schools in this city, but bears out the statement in concrete form, of the inspirational value of the teaching of drawing in our schools, beginning with the early grades. Miss Kelsey is certainly to be congratulated.

W. S. S. at Rosendale.

There will be a meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Rosendale Casino in the interest of the war savings stamp drive. Prominent speakers will address the gathering.

Rented Boulevard Farm.

Louis Hilowitz of New York city, has rented the farm on the Boulevard for the season, owned by the late Rev. Father Kuhn.

11th Ward, Wiltwyck Hose Company.

12th Ward, Wiltwyck Hose Company.

13th Ward, Twaalfskill Hose Company.

We shall be a government "of the people and by the people and for the people" as long as the people shall be of the government and by the government and for the government.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

PRIVATE FRANK MAGER.

Company A, 36th Infantry, now somewhere in France. Home address 48 Jarrold street, Kingston, N. Y., son of Mrs. John Herrick.

George W. Rouse of No. 84 Clifton avenue has received a cablegram announcing the safe arrival in France of his son, Edward Rouse, who is in the Y. M. C. A. war service.

Corporal Robert J. Hudler, formerly member of Company M, now of the 3rd Anti-Aircraft, Company A, located at Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C., is spending his furlough at his home in this city on Lucas avenue.

Private William E. Mellert, Jr., of Allentown, Pa., visited his parents on Sunday, June 16. Mr. Mellert enlisted in the Ambulance Corps on May 20, 1918, at Poughkeepsie. He was formerly operator of the Kingston city filter plant at Zena, and is the first and only fellow of Zena in the service of our country. He received a comfort kit through Mr. Whitaker of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad, and a woolen outfit through Mrs. Downer of the Red Cross at Woodstock. He wishes to thank them both, also his many friends for their kind remembrances and gifts while home Sunday. His uncle, Engineer David Kild presented him with a wrist watch. Mr. Mellert would be glad to hear from his friends. His address is: Private William Mellert, Evacuation Hospital No. 11, Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa.

The organization announces again that Altman has given a special price on the 3-piece khaki uniform of $12. Those who wish to take advantage of this offer must come in for measurement and make a $10 deposit before Tuesday, June 25. Any one desiring to join the reserve branch of the corps, which is also an active branch, may do so by having a chauffeur's or an owner's license.

Before the Surrogate.

Letters of administration on the estate of William E. Easman, late of Nanuet, were granted today by Surrogate Gill to Evelyn A. Easman, a daughter. The amount of the estate is given as $3,000 real and not over $10,000 personal.

Letters of administration have been granted on the estate of Jacob DeWitt, late of the town of Rochester, to Rosa A. DeWitt Hornbeck, a daughter. Norman DeWitt, who was named as executor when the will was probated has since died. The value of the estate is given as not over $4,000.

Goes to Kerhonkson.

Dr. C. P. Hutchins of 80 Pearl street, Kingston, will take charge of Dr. Ford's Sanitarium at Kerhonkson for one month, beginning June 26, while Dr. Ford is away on a vacation. Dr. Hutchins will be in Kingston from 3 to 5 daily to see patients.

WAR AT A GLANCE

The same masterly strategy, coupled with the spirit of "They shall not pass," which won for the allies on the battle fronts in France is winning for the Entente forces in the Italian theater of war.

As the Italian counter assaults grow in strength in the mountains flanking the Asiago Plateau and on the Piave river the Austro-Hungarian attacks grow weaker. But there is little lessening in the violence of the fighting.

Further gains have been made by the Italians and allied forces in the Alps while heavy thrusts on the Piave river are holding the Austrians in their battle positions.

Nature has come to the aid of the Entente armies. The Piave river is now in flood and the freshet has washed away many of the bridges by which the Austrians were able to cross to the right bank.

Massed in a narrow space on the western side of the stream, the Austrian ranks are being raked with a devastating fire from the Italian artillery by night and day.

The Austrian war office claims that the Austro-Hungarian forces on the Piave have crossed the Forstetta canal at several points, but this has not been confirmed from anywhere else.

(The Forstetta canal runs from the Piave to the side rivers. It joins the Sile at Ponte Grande, ten miles north-east of Venice, and enters the Piave between Zenon Loop and San Doja di Piave.)

The vacillating tactics of the Austrian high command has led to great slaughter of the Austro-Hungarian armies and has enabled the Italians to hold the initiative since the offensive was launched last Saturday. In fact, it is not too early now to brand "Austria's supreme effort" as a total failure.

American airmen will soon be fighting alongside their Italian, French and British brethren in arms on the Italian front. A contingent (the first) has already left for that zone of battle.

The battle for Rheims, which opened on the western front in France Tuesday night, died out as suddenly as it began. It proved another costly failure for the German crown prince.

Nothing of special importance has taken place on any of the four great battlefields in France, although increasing raiding and artillery activity on the Picardy and Flanders fronts indicate that the Germans may soon renew their efforts to break through to either Amiens or the Channel ports.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Community Canning Kitchen held yesterday morning it was decided that the price for canning fruit or vegetables would be 3 cents a pint and 4 cents a quart. The matter of the collection of fruit and vegetables and cans, from those housekeepers who wish to avail themselves of the services of the kitchen came up. Attention was called to the fact that few housekeepers would feel that they could afford to pay expressage or cartage to have their fruit or vegetables, the cans to put the same in and the sugar taken to and from the kitchen in addition to the price of canning, nor would they be able to carry the same themselves. No definite action on this phase of the problem was taken at the meeting but suggestions were offered as to the solution of the difficulty which will doubtless be worked out later and in time to make the use of the kitchen possible to others than those who have automobiles of their own.

It was stated that the merchants of the city were in sympathy with the movement and appreciated its benefits, inasmuch as they would be able to secure 20 per cent less stock of canned goods for sale here than last year.

The object of the kitchen is solely to conserve the food of this community (incidentally fuel too) for this community because of the impossibility of transportation.

The farmers of the county are especially urged to sell their surplus fruit and vegetables to the kitchen at the regular market price. If it is found by them impossible to deliver the same, they are asked to communicate with the Kingston Canning Kitchen and arrangements will be made to secure the materials.

The kitchen will open on Saturday morning of this week, at the high school, and work on canning straw berries will be at once begun.

A cordial invitation is extended to the women of Kingston to attend the kitchen, inspect the work, buy the canned goods or give orders for the future. The kitchen is in the basement of the high school.

Any women wishing to be members of the Canning Kitchen, dues $1 a year, will be welcomed by the committee.

The Sheriff's Lambs.

The lambs on the court house lawn have become accustomed to their new surroundings and are making many friends especially among the children.

STATE AUTO ASSN AT MIDDLETOWN

The following is the program for the Mid-Summer meeting of N. Y. State Automobile Association to be held at Middletown June 26-27. All members of the Automobile Club of Ulster County are invited to be present at this meeting and the ladies will receive special attention by the committee in charge. The trip on the 27th will be of special interest, first, because you will have a chance to see two or three thousand army mounts and see how they are broken for riding at the British Remount Station; second, an opportunity to go through Tuxedo Park, followed by one of the most beautiful drives in the state to Bear Mountain Park then the opportunity of seeing the most inspiring sight of all, about 800 of our American boys, the pilots of the country, on parade. This will be worth the trip. Any one wishing reservations or desiring to take the trip may meet the parade at Goshen at 9:45 a. m. or at Tuxedo at 10:45. Please notify Dr. H. P. Meinhardt, the secretary on or before June 25th.

Headquarters, Mitchell Inn; convention in parish house, two blocks distant.

Program:

Wednesday, June 26, 2 p. m.—Convention called to order. All business to be finished at one session.

8:30 p. m.—Buffet smoker, entertainment and dance at Elks' Club.

Thursday, June 27, 9 a. m.—Drive to Goshen; British Remount Station; 9:45 a. m., leave Goshen for Tuxedo Park; 11:30 a. m., leave Tuxedo for Bear Mountain; 1 p. m., lunch at Bear Mountain Park Inn, speaking; 5 p. m., leave for West Point; 6

Whereas, the President of the United States has summoned the American people to invest to their maximum capacity up to one thousand dollars in War Savings Stamps, so that more man-power and material may be available for the support of the Army and Navy of the United States in time to win the war;

Whereas, the Governor of the State of New York, at the instance of the Federal Government, has designated June 28th, 1918, between the hours of noon and ten o'clock p. m. as a day when all adults shall appear in person, or by proxy of a previously signed War Savings Pledge Card, at the proper designated place of registration to register pledges to save and economize to help win the war, and as a minimum fulfillment of such pledges to invest in a specified amount of War Savings Certificates during the remaining months of 1918; and

Whereas, the United States Government must sell and dispose of two billion dollars worth of such certificates prior to January 1st next, of which the people of Ulster County is called upon to invest in one million and four hundred thousand dollars worth, and of which the people of the City of Kingston must provide for its just proportion; and

Whereas, the War Savings Committee of the County of Ulster, Hon. William D. Brinnier, Chairman, pursuant to the urgent requirements of the United States Treasury and at the request of the State Director for War Savings, has prepared during the week of June 22nd to June 28th, to take pledges from all the people of the City of Kingston and the County of Ulster for investment in War Savings Certificates, the same to be registered on National War Savings Day;

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the request of the National State Governments and of the County Committee I do call upon all loyal citizens of the City of Kingston to pledge themselves to buy War Savings Stamps to help win the war, and I urge all citizens to promote the sale of such stamps in large amounts, and that all who are able should pledge themselves to invest to the limit allowed by law, being the maturity value of one thousand dollars; and that all pledges be registered on June 28th next, National War Savings Day; and that the following places be and are hereby designated as the respective places of registration in the City of Kingston to register pledges to wit:

W. S. S. WORKERS MEET SATURDAY

Big W. S. S. Drive Opens Saturday and Workers Meet at 4 P. M. That Evening to Make First Reports—Will be Success.

The big W. S. S. drive officially opens on Saturday, and the first meeting will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., when the workers will make their first reports. In Kingston a house to house canvass will be made. The city has been laid out in blocks and workers assigned to cover each block. The campaign will be carried out along the same lines as used during the other big drives.

In the county districts a thorough canvass will also be made. The Flying Squadron, headed by Postmaster DeWitt, have received requests from various rural communities to hold rallies. Last evening one was held at Stone Ridge. This evening meetings will be held at East Kingston, Highland and New Paltz. Other meetings as follows:

June 21—Ulster Park and two meetings at Walkkill.

June 22—Gardiner, Clintonville and Woodstock.

June 24—Modena.

June 25—Open air rally at Marlborough.

Wins Pratt Scholarship.

Word has been received in this city that Miss Ruth C. Kelsey, daughter of the late Frederick C. Kelsey and Mrs. Kelsey, formerly of this city, and now of Brooklyn, has won a scholarship in the department in designing and commercial illustrating at Pratt Institute, a considerable honor. Moreover Miss Kelsey is the youngest student at present in the art department of Pratt Institute. This gratifying news, coming so closely upon the announcement of the drawing exhibitions in our public schools in this city, but bears out the statement in concrete form of the inspirational value of the teaching of drawing in our schools, beginning with the early grades. Miss Kelsey is certainly to be congratulated.

W. S. S. at Rosendale.

There will be a meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Rosendale Casino in the interest of the war savings stamps drive. Prominent speakers will address the gathering.

Rented Boulevard Farm.

Louis Hilowitz of New York city, has rented the farm on the Boulevard Casino in the interest of the war savings stamps drive. Prominent speakers will address the gathering.

11th Ward, Wiltwyck Hose Company.

12th Ward, Wiltwyck Hose Company.

13th Ward, Twaalfskill Hose Company.

We shall be a government "of the people and by the people and for the people" as long as the people shall be of the government and by the government and for the government.

PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor.

MOTOR CORPS SWORN IN

Captain Fowler Takes Oath of Enrollment of 25 Women For the Ambulance Motor Corps of the Home Defense Reserve.

Twenty-five ladies of Kingston signed their willingness for military duty last evening at the armory. Any ladies who were unable to be present at the armory last evening to take the oath of allegiance and qualify for the Motor Corps may do so at the office of the Woman's Branch of the Home Defense at 44 Main street, at any time before the company is mustered in.

Following are names of the ladies who have taken the oath of allegiance to the state of New York and whom Dr. Mary Gage-Day has pronounced as physically fit for service:

Margaret L. Murphy

Reita Smith

Belle S. Hillebrand

Marie Louise Terry

Adah D. White

Lillian V. Freeman.

The organization announces again that Altman has given a special price on the 3-piece khaki uniform of $12. Those who wish to take advantage of this offer must come in for measurement and make a $10 deposit before Tuesday, June 25. Any one desiring to join the reserve branch of the corps, which is also an active branch, may do so by having a chauffeur's or an owner's license.

Before the Surrogate.

Letters of administration on the estate of William Easman, late of Napanoch, were granted today by Surrogate Gill to Evelyn A. Easman, a daughter. The amount of the estate is given as $2,400 real and not over $10,000 personal.

Letters of administration have been granted on the estate of Jacob DeWitt, late of the town of Rochester, to Rosa A. DeWitt Hornbeck, a daughter. Norman DeWitt, who was named as executor when the will was probated has since died. The value of the estate is given as not over $4,000.

Goes to Kerhonkson.

Dr. C. P. Hutchins of 86 Pearl street, Kingston, will take charge of Dr. Ford's Sanatorium at Kerhonkson for one month, beginning June 20, while Dr. Ford is away on vacation. Dr. Hutchins will be in Kingston from 2 to 5 daily to see patients.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

PRIVATE FRANK MAGER.

Company A, 306th Infantry, now somewhere in France. Home address 48 Jarrold street, Kingston, N. Y., son of Mrs. John Herrick.

George W. Rouse of No. 84 Clifton avenue has received a cablegram announcing the safe arrival in France of his son, Edward Rouse, who is in the U. S. M. C. A. war service.

Corporal Robert J. Hudler, formerly member of Company M, now of the 3rd Anti-Aircraft, Company A, located at Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C., is spending his furlough at his home in this city on Lucas avenue.

Private William E. Mellert, Jr., of Allentown, Pa., visited his parents on Sunday, June 16. Mr. Mellert enlisted in the Ambulance Corps on May 20, 1918, at Poughkeepsie. He was formerly operator of the Kingston city filter plant at Zena, and is the first and only fellow of Zena in the service of our country. He received a comfort kit through Mr. Whitaker of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad, and a woolen outfit through Mrs. Downer of the Red Cross at Woodstock. He wishes to thank them both, also his many friends for their kind remembrances and gifts while home Sunday. His uncle, Engineer David Kidd presented him with a wrist watch. Mr. Mellert would be glad to hear from his friends.

Address is: Private William Mellert, Evacuation Hospital No. 11, Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa.

STATE AUTO ASSN AT MIDDLETOWN

The following is the program for the Mid-Summer meeting of N. Y. State Automobile Association to be held at Middletown June 26-27. All members of the Automobile Club of Ulster County are invited to be present at this meeting and the ladies will receive special attention by the committee in charge. The trip on the 27th will be of special interest, first, because you will have a chance to see two or three thousand army mounts and see how they are broken for riding at the British Remount Station; second, an opportunity to go through Tuxedo Park, followed by one of the most beautiful drives in the state to Bear Mountain Park; then the opportunity of seeing the most inspiring sight of all about 800 of our American boys, the pick of the country, on parade. This will be worth the trip. Any one wishing reservations or desiring to take the trip may meet the parade at Goshen at 9:45 a. m. or at Tuxedo at 10:45. Please notify Dr. H. P. Meinhardt, the secretary on or before June 25th.

Headquarters, Mitchell Inn; location in parish house, two blocks distant.

Program:

Wednesday, June 26, 2 p. m.—Convention called to order. All business to be finished at one session.

8:30 p. m.—Buffet smoker, entertainment and dance at Elks' Club.

Thursday, June 27, 9 a. m.—Drive to Goshen, British Remount Station; 9:45 a. m., leave Goshen for Tuxedo Park; 11:30 a. m., leave Tuxedo for Bear Mountain; 1 p. m., lunch at Bear Mountain Park Inn; speaking; 5 p. m., leave for West Point; 5:30 p. m., Dress Parade of West Point Cadets.

Adjourn.

Reservations.

Make your reservations at once through C. P. Clark, No. 190 Academy avenue, or H. E. Barnes, secretary Middletown Automobile Club, Middletown, N. Y.

Fireman Hurt During Drill.

Falling from a ladder during a fire drill at Niagara Steamer Company, Poughkeepsie, Tuesday evening, Albert Minnow, a member of the company fractured both legs. He is now in Vassar Hospital, that city.

Galli-Curci at Pine Hill.

Mme. Galli-Curci, the famous opera singer, who has rented one of the large handsome cottages in Chelsea Park, Pine Hill, for the season, is now at the cottage.

The Sheriff's Lambs.

The lambs on the court house lawn have become accustomed to their new surroundings and are making many friends especially among the children.

WAR AT A GLANCE

The same masterly strategy, coupled with the spirit of "They shall not pass," which won for the allies on the battle fronts in France is winning for the Entente forces in the Italian theater of war.

As the Italian counter assaults grow in strength in the mountains flanking the Asiago Plateau and on the Piave river the Austro-Hungarian attacks grow weaker. But there is little lessening in the violence of the fighting.

Further gains have been made by the Italians and allied forces in the Alps while heavy thrusts on the Piave river are holding the Austrians in their battle positions.

Nature has come to the aid of the Entente armies. The Piave river is now in flood and the freshets has washed away many of the bridges by which the Austrians were able to cross to the right bank.

Messed in a narrow space on the western side of the stream, the Austrian ranks are being raked with a devastating fire from the Italian artillery by night and day.

The Austrian war office claims that the Austro-Hungarian forces on the lower Piave have crossed the Forcella canal at several points, but this has not been confirmed from anywhere else.

(The Forcella canal runs from the Piave to the Sile rivers. It joins the Sile at Ponte Grande, ten miles north-east of Venice, and enters the Piave between Zenon Loop and San Gioia Di Piave.)

The vacillating tactics of the Austrian high command has led to great slaughter of the Austro-Hungarian armies and has enabled the Italians to hold the initiative since the offensive was launched last Saturday. In fact, it is not too early now to brand "Austria's supreme effort" as a total failure.

American airmen will soon be fighting alongside their Italian, French and British brethren in arms on the Italian front. A contingent (the first) has already left for that zone of battle.

The battle for Rheims, which opened on the western front in France Tuesday night, died out as suddenly as it began. It proved another costly failure for the German crown prince.

Nothing of special importance has taken place on any of the great battlefields in France, although increasing raiding and artillery activity on the Picardy and Flanders fronts indicate that the Germans may soon renew their efforts to break through to either Amiens or the Channel ports.

CANNING KITCHEN OPENS SATURDAY

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Community Canning Kitchen held yesterday morning it was decided that the price for canning fruit or vegetables would be 3 cents a pint and 4 cents a quart.

The matter of the collection of fruit and vegetables and cans, from those housekeepers who wish to avail themselves of the services of the kitchen came up. Attention was called to the fact that few housekeepers would feel that they could afford to pay expressage or cartage to have their fruit or vegetables, the cans to put the same in and the sugar taken to the price of canning, nor would they be able to carry the same themselves. No definite action on this phase of the problem was taken at the meeting but suggestions were offered as to the solution of the difficulty which will doubtless be worked out later. In and time to make the use of the kitchen possible to others than those who have automobiles of their own.

It was stated that the merchants of the city were in sympathy with the movement and appreciated its benefits, inasmuch as they would be able to secure 20 per cent less stock of canned goods for sale here than last year.

The object of the kitchen is solely to conserve the food of this community (incidentally fuel too) for this community because of the impossibility of transportation.

The farmers of the county are especially urged to sell their surplus fruit and vegetables to the kitchen at the regular market price. If it is found by them impossible to deliver the same, they are asked to communicate with the Kingston Canning Kitchen and arrangements will be made to secure the materials.

The kitchen will open on Saturday morning of this week, at the high school, and work on canning strawberries will be at once begun.

A cordial invitation is extended to the women of Kingston to attend the kitchen, inspect the work, buy the canned goods or else orders for the future. The kitchen is in the basement of the high school.

Any woman wishing to be a member of the Canning Kitchen, dues $1 a year, will be welcomed by the committee.

FLY WARNINGS ARE TO BE SENT OUT

Health Board Decide to Send Out Letters to All Having Manure Pits in City—Flies a Menace to Health.

That flies are a dangerous menace to health and that every effort should be made to rid the city as far as possible of flies was discussed by the health board at its special meeting Wednesday evening at which time it was decided to send out letters to all residents in the city having manure pits in the rear of their stables asking them to co-operate with the board.

The board also extended its sympathies to Secretary Fred Sahloff, who was unable to be present, owing to the illness of his wife.

A copy of the letter to be sent out by the board reads as follows:

"Flies are a serious menace in the transmission of typhoid and diarrheal disease. Flies cause many deaths each summer. The principal breeding place of flies is manure. A fly will lay over 100 eggs every three weeks which hatch out as little white maggots in about ten hours. The maggots live in the manure about five days and then burrow down into the ground or out into the drier portions of the material, and go into a pupa or resting stage, from which the adult fly comes out in about five days more.

The best way of controlling flies is to keep the manure in a fly-tight bin or pit so that flies will not have an opportunity to lay their eggs in it. A bin or pit of the required size may be built without great expense in or alongside the stable and the stable cleanings thrown into it the first thing each morning, care being taken to keep the pit tightly closed at all other times. If not kept in such bins or pits, it should be removed from the city one each week.

"This is war time. We can't lose any of our efforts through unnecessary illness caused by flies. We can't permit death to take any of our citizens due to the disease-carrying activities of flies. This is not a local matter, but a national matter at this time.

"The board of health has passed a resolution that during the summer months Regulation 15 of the sanitary code of the city requiring all manure must be kept in tight bins, vaults, or boxes and tightly covered is to be strictly enforced. The only alternative is to remove the manure from the city each week.

"We ask your friendly co-operation in our effort for the prevention and checking of disease. Your stable will be inspected in due time, and we hope you will understand the necessity of complying with the above mentioned provision of the Sanitary Code at once."

As will be seen by the letter to be sent out the board will strictly enforce the provision in the code covering that subject.

Other matters taken up at the session will be found in another column.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics at the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Friday.

Breakfast—Pearled barley (cooked with figs and served with top milk); vegetable hash; coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Japanese salad; corn pone; sliced fruit with shredded coconut.

Dinner—Broiled mackerel steaks; mashed potatoes; green peas; strawberry shortcake.

*May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

Strawberry shortcake without wheat is one of the developments of war and conservation. Wheatless shortcake can be made according to any recipe for baking powder biscuits in which the new flours are used. Barley flour can be used very successfully for this.

Vegetable Hash.

Combine left-over vegetables (cooked). Chop and saute in a little butter or bake in the oven.

Japanese Salad.

Marinate one cup cold rice, mix it with mayonnaise dressing. Remove the centers from large tomatoes and fill the cavities with the rice and dressing.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Successful Entertainment.

The little folks' entertainment held Wednesday night at the school hall of the Spring Street Lutheran Church under the direction of Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz, proved a very interesting affair to a large and appreciative audience. Miss Schmidtkonz was complimented on the ability she had shown in training the children. At the close of the entertainment Rev. Schmidtkonz addressed the gathering on war savings, urging their hearty co-operation in all other campaigns, and saying in a humorous way that he had not engaged a Four Minute Man to speak as he felt himself capable of making the appeal. The pastor disposed of over $100 in war stamps and he will be pleased to receive further orders this evening.

Rifton School Entertainment.

The Rifton and Rocks schools will give an entertainment in the village hall on Friday evening, June 21, 1918. The program consists of an operetta, entitled "Brownie Band," and a play in two acts, "A Perplexing Situation."

"Kayser" Silk Gloves For Summer

NO NEED TO INTRODUCE "Kayser" Silk Gloves to Kingston women!

Too long have they known that "Kayser" is a guarantee of quality; that Gloves with that name are smart to a high degree—or they would not be offered at R. G. R.'s; that "Kayser" Gloves keep their shape and give long wear.

The R. G. R. store has brought to Kingston women this season the largest assortment probably that has ever been shown here. The variety is so great that it is impossible to find Gloves which will not harmonize with almost every boot shade, suit shade or hosiery shade; that will not be precisely correct for every occasion.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, June 18—Miss Fannie Bond entertained guests from Poughkeepsie Sunday.

Let every one remember the auxiliary food sale this Saturday afternoon on the J. W. Peeter lawn. Varieties of bread, cake, pie, potato salad, baked beans, etc., for your Saturday evening meal, also some good things to eat for Sunday. Sale at 3 o'clock. Be on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Kutz expect to have relatives from the West for a visit in the near future.

Ladies' Auxiliary of M. E. Church will hold their meeting on July 12, instead of the first Friday in the month, on account of the Chautauque which will be held at that time and of course the people will go to that, and no one wishes in any way to interfere with anything along the line of doing or receiving good from whatever may be brought forth as being educational.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Atkins and Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Schoonmaker were out of town last Sunday and had a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Maynard were out to Walkkill last Sunday. They are having a bungalow erected near the Walkkill creek. F. L. Metcalf is doing the work and when it is finished we presume they will spend week ends there and in fact their vacation, which will be more satisfactory than going to other places under the present situation of affairs all over. We have had experience recently at some of the hotels and restaurants where you pay fabulous prices and do not get much for your money.

Daughters of America held their regular meeting on Wednesday evening with a large attendance. We were told by a member that they had installed a candidate, and beside they had initiation. At close of their ceremonies they served refreshments and had a delightful time. At this time we were not given the names of the officers for ensuing term. We expect to receive them next week.

The Rev. F. A. Coon, the M. E. Church pastor, delivered a masterpiece on last Sunday morning. We heard from different ones who were present that it was one of the best sermons ever preached from that pulpit, and there was some who said they did not want to miss one sermon, for all of them are so very interesting.

Mrs. John Schulte of Poughkeepsie was in town the first part of the week. She is looking fine and tells us she enjoys living in the city, but she is so near the fine Schulte place here, that she and her husband are very often seen here, for, of course, they are interested in the making of the famous grape beverage, which all who have tasted its good qualities, can assure one there is nothing better made.

Mrs. Emily Brundage has had her son, Stephen Ward, who has been in Connecticut for some time, home on a visit, and she informs us he has to report soon for war duty.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gunsalus, Miss Ella Businberg and Corrie Gunsalus were out Sunday for a pleasure trip to Ashokan dam.

Order of Eastern Star met as usual on Monday evening, as first and third Mondays of each month are their meeting nights. They had a fair attendance, and we heard they are now going to close and resume their work in September.

Passenger rules on all trains and boats have been raised, so it will cost considerable now to go traveling.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Terwilliger of Cliftondale Road have been entertaining relatives from Brooklyn for a short time.

Miss Elizabeth DuBois was elected president of the Queen Esther Circle and Mrs. George Cornell, vice-president, at their meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Andrus DuBois, who was the hostess, and a very pleasant and profitable meeting was held at that time.

Lloyd Plass has a fine advertisement of his garage and certain kinds of tires for automobiles on the new danger sign erected on the property of Captain and Mrs. R. H. Decker, on the state road leading to the ferry. There are many dangerous curves along this road and this large sign can be seen coming up from the river also going to same. It is something that has been needed and we hope it may be the means of autoists slowing down, so there will be no danger of accidents, but the way some people drive and race and try to pass each other around these curves is certainly alarming and some of them ought to be complained of for they have no regard for pedestrians whatever. We hope a law to the wise is sufficient.

Ford Lasher of Poughkeepsie was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Wert of Maple avenue last Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Miller, widow of Peter Miller, mother of Edward Miller of this place, died Tuesday morning at Newburgh, where she made her home with her daughter, and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Zimmerman. She had a stroke of paralysis and never regained consciousness. All was done for her that was in the power of the doctors, but of no avail. She was 50 years of age and that, of course, was against her recovery. She had frequently visited here with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, and had made a number of friends who regret to hear this sad intelligence. Funeral services were held Thursday at Newburgh. The interment was in Plattekill cemetery. There were many handsome floral emblems, showing the high esteem in which she was held. Friends here extend sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Miller in this time of bereavement.

Mrs. Simeon Scott and daughter, Pearl, spent a short time in Middletown last week.

Mrs. J. C. Dedrick returned last Sunday from New York city, where she had been spending a few days with relatives and friends.

Children's Day was observed in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday. Theron DuBois was in Lloyd last Sunday and attended service at the M. E. Church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller spent a few days in Newburgh the first part of the week.

Arthur Schamerhorn of New York city was a week end visitor of his wife at their home on Main street. He certainly enjoys the short stays at this place and the rest from city hustle and the pleasure of being in the country, if only for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Schantz had as their guests week end friends from Brooklyn.

Examinations were held in the high school Monday on through to Friday. The school pupils, especially the younger ones are just anxious for vacation for they think they have been under the hammer for a long time, so when the time comes for school to close we will all hear of their having such grand times at vacation play and the school books will be put upon the shelf and forgotten for weeks to come, but later on then for study.

Wednesday afternoon the Woman's Missionary Society connected with the M. E. Church met with Miss Adeline Terwilliger and there were several ladies present from out of town. The meeting was very interesting and plans laid for some future work and refreshments served.

Rev. F. A. Coon, wife and son, also Principal E. A. March and wife had a pleasant trip last Saturday when they all went to Poughkeepsie and look with them a fine lunch and enjoyed eating it at College Hill. They had a regular picnic and those things are always greatly enjoyed for it seems that a lunch partaken of out of doors always seems more appetizing than the same at home, and the recreation was fine and these people said they just had a glorious time.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, June 20.—All women aliens receiving mail through the Stone Ridge post office are required to appear before the postmaster at that office between June 17-23 and register. Each woman must bring with her four photographs of herself. If an American woman has married an alien enemy she must also register.

There will be a free illustrated lecture given in the Reformed Church on Thursday evening, June 20, by a returned Arabian missionary. An offering for the Arabian Mission will be taken.

Card of Thanks.

Through the columns of The Freeman we wish to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude to our neighbors and friends for their many kind expressions of sympathy during our late bereavement.

WAR WORK OF THE "MOVIES."

Supercilious critics still sneer at the "movies" as art, although highly artistic effects have been achieved in the more developed dramatic productions, but nobody can belittle the screen as a medium of useful war publicity and the promotion of the war spirit. The newspapers are ahead in carrying the daily news, but the screen stands alone in vivid exposition of the war's thousand activities at home and abroad. Though its work is literally done in the dark, it brings the whole subject into the limelight of publicity, pictures before our very eyes of the war in all its phases, and thus stirs and inspires while it informs. No wonder the greatest governments are using it as a means of arousing patriotism, boosting war loans and forwarding practically every undertaking.

Uncle Sam himself has now become one of the greatest of film producers, rightly regarding moving pictures as one of the most successful of all means of depicting war conditions, showing the necessity of the country's great undertaking, and inviting universal support. It has been very pointedly remarked that as a "movie" producer our government has the world for a stage, the heavens for a proscenium arch, and many millions of soldiers and the navies of several countries as actors and participants. This, by the way, is a very good description of the scope of the government's picture, "Pershing's Crusaders." Other productions which are successfully performing a similar service, each in its own way, include Griffith's "Hearts of the World," "Kultur," "The Beast of Berlin," "My Own United States," "The Slacker," "Lafayette, We Are Here," etc., to say nothing of hundreds of picture-dramas of, the ordinary one-hour length giving some war scenes, inspiring patriotism and strengthening devotion.

SHAKESPEARE ANNEXED.

The report comes that the Kaiser has ordered the publication of a "national" edition of Shakespeare's works, and previous reports have indicated the frequent production of Shakespeare's plays in Berlin and other German cities even during the present war. This may suggest an effort to show that art in Germany occupies a realm too high to be touched by war as well as to heap coals of fire on the Allied countries that have banished German music and turned away from German literature. But the Kaiser's "national" edition of Shakespeare in 1918 is really nothing of the sort and appears to be merely a reassertion of the German, self-adoring Teutonic notion that the English-speaking peoples are incapable of appreciating Shakespeare that in mind and quality the great bard was not English, and that he was a "German" who happened to be born in England.

Of course it is not foolishly claimed that Shakespeare was a German immigrant or that he was of recent German descent, but merely that the greatness and power of the Saxon blood in England was centered in him, in other words, inasmuch as all greatness wherever found is essentially German, such also was Shakespeare in both instinct and genius, and therefore in the true sense he belongs to Germany. The Germans may sigh for the annexation of Great Britain a few centuries longer, but they long ago annexed Shakespeare and regard him as their very own. The colossal conceit in all this is silly enough, but Germany's seeming genuine appreciation and unquestionable love of the great bard of Avon is a standing rebuke to the neglectful public in the British empire and the United States.

The War Department announces that "razors are now being issued to the men of the American Expeditionary Forces," this being "in line with General Pershing's desire to have a clean-faced force as an element in morale." There is reason to expect that in numerous instances those implements of the toilet will become weapons of war. It is related, for example, that when the District Attorney recently advised a negro conscript of Shenandoah, Pa., to go into battle twice armed he received this enthusiastic response: "I always carries a razor and I sho will have one handy when I get mixed up with them Germans."

Writing in the Pan-German Gazette in 1902 of the "Germanization of America," through such propaganda agencies as the German-American Alliance, Robert Thiem, a German born into American citizenship, declared that "in a hundred years the American people will be conquered by the victorious German spirit so that it will present an enormous German Empire." No wonder the Kaiser expressed warm approval of the German-American Alliance by decorating C. J. Hexamer, its president.

President Wilson has asked the Boy Scouts of America to help win the war by locating black-walnut trees in their neighborhoods. As these trees are scarce and are urgently needed for the manufacture of gunstocks and airplane propellers, the young Scouts who patriotically respond will have highly useful as well as pleasurable summer employment.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"That's a fine new automobile you have, Mrs. Comeup." "Yes, and we have such a splendid cheffeyear."—Baltimore American.

He—"I would rather have a man call me a knave than a fool." She—"Of course. It's the truth that hurts."—Boston Transcript.

Dauber—"I got more than I expected for my last picture." Friend—"Why, I thought your landlord agreed to take it in lieu of next month's rent." Dauber—"Yes, but he raised my rent."—Boston Transcript.

"To be happy a man needs a wonderful digestion and a woman needs beautiful attire." "Yes," commented Miss Cayenne, "one wants the stomach of an ostrich and the other wants the feathers."—Washington Star.

A Land of Skeletons.

Carl Emil Junck, the millionaire dye dealer of Chicago, said on his return from a trip through Germany.

"The Germans are starving. A fat man is as rare in Germany today as a well, as a side of bacon or real tobacco."

"Germany is today a land of living skeletons. In a Hamburg restaurant one afternoon a skeleton opposite me sat eating an egg substitute omelette about the size of a half dollar."

"I looked at the poor fellow with a pitying glance and said:

"Can such rations nourish you?" "Well," said he, in a dismal voice, "they keep skin and bone together."—Exchange.

A Rank Story.

Because the newly commissioned major on the way to Toronto looked like ready money the porter had been very active in his attentions. His movements were of the "hot foot" variety whenever the officer appeared to require service. Also he was careful to address the major as "sir." And when the train neared the union depot and, following the assiduous use of the brush, the sable servitor discovered himself in the possession of a dime, he was equal to the emergency. He clicked his heels together, saluted and remarked, "Corp'ral. Ah tank yo!"—San Francisco Argonaut.

Stud or Draw?

"I think Alky has been in a poker game. If I were sure, I would give him fits."

"Why your suspicions?"

"He was talking in his sleep last night about pot luck."

"Don't be too severe on your husband. That sounds more like an invitation to dinner."

"Perhaps you are right. He was speaking later of table steaks."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Quite Right.

In a recent examination paper for a boy clerk's post was this question:

"If the premier and all the members of the cabinet should die, who would officiate?"

Robert, a boy of fortune, thought for a time, trying in vain to recall who came next in succession. At last a happy inspiration came to him, and he answered: "The undertaker."—Vancouver Province.

I am one of Civilization's Titans

Hid underground for millions of years, I come forth at last, genii-like, to work wonders at your slightest wish.

I shoulder man's burdens! I bring light to his home and his workshop; I cook his food, warm his house, heat his bath—I am his personal bodyguard and slave.

In his factories and among his huge industrial plants, I labor ceaselessly at a thousand tasks. Through me the wheels of industry turn faster—metal is melted, molded and tempered, lumber is dried, enamels are applied, clothing is shaped, foods are prepared.

Wherever a clear, mellow, restful light is needed—wherever a clean, reliable, economical heat is called for—my services are in demand.

I am the possessor of a triumphant past—of a big, vital present—of a magnificent future.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Anderson District School No. 1, Addressed by Supt. Gillette.

The closing days of Public School No. 1 (Anderson District) was fittingly observed at "Fairview," the home of Mrs. Fannie Steward. The parents of the children gathered on the spacious lawn, decorated with flags, bunting and flowers, where the school children rendered a splendid program under the direction of Miss Cookingham, the teacher. At the close of the program the pupils and guests were served with ice cream, cake, root beer. It was a gathering where every one seemed to have a good time. At the close those assembled expressed themselves by tendering a vote of thanks to Mrs. Fannie Steward, Miss Ruth Cookingham, and Catherine Hummel for the kind hospitalities rendered the people present.

The address of Superintendent John U. Gillette in presenting the service flag to the board of education was as follows:

Pupils and Friends of the School: I desire to congratulate you upon the completion of another year's work. You have selected for another year for trustees the Rev. C. H. Polhemus, college man and agriculturist; E. H. Hathaway, college man, civil engineer and agriculturist, and Harry Hummel, a stirring native of the place and an efficient superintendent of "Fairview." The combined judgment of these gentlemen augurs well for the future educational interests of your community for the coming school year.

I am here by the invitation of your teacher, Miss Cookingham directly, but I assume we are assembled here as an audience by the courtesy of Mrs. Fannie Steward, upon this spacious estate, "Fairview," once the home of the owner of the famous rival Hudson bearing upon its bosom the riches of trade and skirted by the pathway of commerce, an ideal spot indeed for the closing exercises of our school.

Mrs. Steward having been a trained teacher, herself a graduate of a college for teachers, possesses a keen interest for proper school activities. It has been a great pleasure to work with the trustees, patrons, teachers, and pupils of this school in the past and it ought to be a source of congratulation to you all that, when the state authorities could have completed the erection of a new school building at a cost of approximately $4,000, your board and superintendent made alterations to meet requirement for less than $100, and got away with it.

Whether by accident or design your closing day is coincident with "Flag Day," and this suggests a few additional words.

Our flag had its birth by a resolution of congress, June 14, 1777. There had been various flags used by the American Colonies and floated from the masts of men-of-war prior to this date, but the first real American flag had its origin 141 years ago in our national capital.

And what a wonderful banner it is. Not old you say? And yet it is older than the proud flag of Great Britain adopted in 1801, older than the flag of Spain, 1785, or the tricolor of France, 1794, or the German Empire of 1870. This flag which you and I love has a most wonderful history since the early days. It was given birth by the great Washington. It was thrown to the breeze at Brandywine and Germantown in 1777. It gave comfort to the starving soldiers at Valley Forge. It was present at the decisive battle of Yorktown.

It is floating from the masts of our navy and army today, and from beneath its folds on its 141st birthday, there comes voices from within its folds of those gallant warriors, Perry, Hull, Decatur, Farragut, Hobson and others calling to our heroic in our present struggle to uphold the splendid traditions of the past by striking the greatest blow which it has ever been called upon to deal for humanity, and as proud Americans we have faith that our men of the navy will sustain the proud traditions of our seamen, and do its share for human freedom.

Today this flag re-echoes Patrick Henry's call from Virginia, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death." It is spreading Paul Revere's words through "Middlesex Village and Farm." It is upholding President Wilson's "Bugle Call to Liberty."

Pupils and friends, the lesson today is loyalty to our flag and country.

When we gaze on old glory, we see, not only the colors but we should see and grasp what they represent and what they stand for. It stands for freedom, justice and humanity. The red signifies heroism; the white, purity, and the blue, devotion, and there is only one flag for us all and that is the Stars and Stripes. There can be only one flag for true Americans who have sat under its graceful folds and if we are loyal the following lines will express our heart felt wish, "The Star Spangled Banner, Oh, Long May It Wave, O'er the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave."

This service flag which I hold appears sacred to me. It represents the young manhood of your community. This flag purchased by you and your friends is to do honor to the memory of those boys. The red of Old Glory floating from yonder halcyons over "Fairview" is reflected in this service flag; the white of Old Glory is reflected in this flag, the blue of Old Glory is also reflected in this flag.

The young men from this district have been called to take part in the greatest struggle the world has ever known. They have left home and all that was dear to them to fight your battles and mine, and there is not a thing, which is within the gift of this patriotic community which is to good for them. May the objects for which they have entered this struggle be speedily attained, and they be restored in good health and with honor to their homes and friends. I esteem it a great honor to be granted the privilege to represent this community in presenting this service flag to the board of trustees of this school.

The Rev. C. H. Polhemus accepted the flag on behalf of the board trustees in a most eloquent speech.

The young men in the service are: Percy Taylor, David West, Harold Ellsworth, Edwin Doyle, Jeffery Strugnell, Albert Cormack.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Smart Style for the Young Miss.
2276—Here is a pretty model for charmeuse, poplin, satin or taffeta, and equally nice for the new duvetynes, cashmeres or gabardines. The dress is cut with one piece lines and has pretty pockets inserted at the side seams. The sleeve is new and dart fitted. A good feature of this model is that the fronts may be finished with open neck, or rolled up in high closing.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 14 will require 4 1/4 yards of 36-inch material. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.
Send 10c in silver or stamps for our Up-to-Date Spring and Summer, 1918, Catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking; also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, June 20.—Miss Ada Cudney has purchased an auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Bishop visited at Mrs. E. R. Kenney's Sunday. Miss Lizzie Secor of Kingston spent Saturday night with Mrs. Walter Bogart.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Kingston and Mrs. Ada Lane of Newark, N. J., are spending the week with Mrs. Lewis Thell.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barclay spent Sunday at Wittenburg. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bogart and Mrs. Smith were up to their summer home over the week end.

Mrs. E. D. M. Secor returned home Sunday after a visit at her mother's in Palentown.

Mrs. Walter Bogart spent Wednesday with Mrs. Cyrus Cudney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kenney left on Monday for a visit in Schoharie.

The entertainment given by the school children June 13 in aid of the Red Cross was a decided success. All the children took their parts exceptionally well and the flag drill was fine. Music was furnished by Mrs. Lasher with her Victrola and Mrs. Arthur Winsor at the organ. A large crowd was present and $25 were added to the Red Cross fund. We think this district may well be proud of its boys and girls and their work for a good cause.

Our Growing Population.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gemmell of 75 Franklin street, have welcomed a boy at their home.

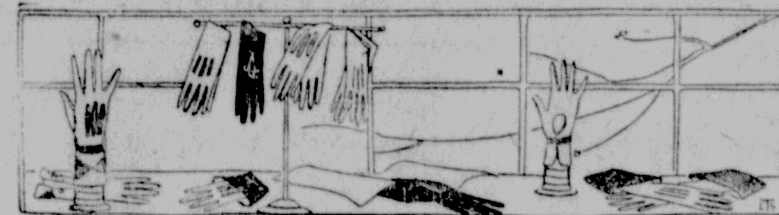

A daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mandelino at 209 North street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brizee are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter at their home on DuBois street.

FLY WARNINGS ARE TO BE SENT OUT

Health Board Decide to Send Out Letters to All Having Manure Pits in City—Flies a Menace to Health.

That flies are a dangerous menace to health and that every effort should be made to rid the city as far as possible of flies was discussed by the health board at its special meeting Wednesday evening at which time it was decided to send out letters to all residents in the city having manure pits in the rear of their stables asking them to co-operate with the board.

The board also extended its sympathies to Secretary Fred Sahlhoff, who was unable to be present, owing to the illness of his wife.

A copy of the letter to be sent out by the board reads as follows:

"Flies are a serious menace in the transmission of typhoid and diarrheal disease. Flies cause many deaths each summer. The principal breeding place of flies is manure. A fly will lay over 100 eggs every three weeks, which hatch out as little white maggots in about ten hours. The maggots live in the manure about five days and then burrow down into the ground or out into the drier portions of the material and go into a pupa or resting stage, from which the adult fly comes out in about five days more.

The best way of controlling flies is to keep the manure in a fly-tight bin or pit so that flies will not have an opportunity to lay their eggs in it. A bin or pit of the required size may be built without great expense in or alongside the stable and the stable cleanings thrown into it the first of the first thing each morning, care being taken to keep the pit tightly closed at all other times. If not kept in such bins or pits, it should be removed from the city one each week.

"This is war time. We can't lose any of our efforts through unnecessary illness caused by flies. We can't permit death to take any of our citizens due to the disease-carrying activities of flies. This is not a local matter, but a national matter at this time.

"The board of health has passed a resolution that during the summer months Regulation 15 of the sanitary code of the city requiring all manure must be kept in tight bins, vaults, or boxes and tightly covered is to be strictly enforced. The only alternative is to remove the manure from the city each week.

"We ask your friendly co-operation in our effort for the prevention and checking of disease. Your stable will be inspected in due time, and we hope you will understand the necessity of complying with the above mentioned provision of the Sanitary Code at once."

As will be seen by the letter to be sent out the board will strictly enforce the provision in the code covering this subject.

Other matters taken up at the session will be found in another column.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in number, sense than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics in the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Friday.

Breakfast—Pearled barley (cooked with rye) and served with top milk; vegetable hash; coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Japanese salad; corn pommer; sliced fruit with shredded coconut.

Dinner—Broiled mackerel steaks; mashed potatoes; green peas; strawberry shortcake.

*May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

Strawberry shortcake without wheat in one of the developments of war and conservation. Wheatless shortcake can be made according to any recipe for baking powder biscuits in which the new flours are used. Barley flour can be used very successfully for this.

Vegetable Hash.

Combine left-over vegetables (cooked). Chop and saute in a little butter or bake in the oven.

Japanese Salad.

Morinate one cup cold rice, mix it with mayonnaise dressing. Remove the centers from large tomatoes and fill the cavities with the rice and dressing.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Successful Entertainment.

The little folks' entertainment held Wednesday night at the school hall of the Spring Street Lutheran Church under the direction of Miss Sophie Schmidt-konz, proved a very interesting affair to a large and appreciative audience. Miss Schmidt-konz was complimented on the ability she had shown in training the children. At the close of the entertainment Rev. Schmidt-konz addressed the gathering on war savings, urging their hearty co-operation as in other campaigns, and saying in a humorous way that he had not engaged a Four Minute Man to speak as he felt himself capable of making the appeal. The pastor disposed of over $100 in war stamps and he will be pleased to receive further orders this evening.

Rifton School Entertainment.

The Rifton and Rocks schools will give an entertainment in the village hall on Friday evening, June 21, 1918. The program consists of an operetta, entitled "Brownie Band," and a play in two acts, "A Perplexing Situation."

REGISTRANTS TO BE RECLASSIFIED

Local Exemption Boards to Be Assisted by the Legal Advisory Board in Revising Deferred Class—Many Will Be Transferred to Class 1.

Members of the local exemption boards and the legal advisory board will be kept very busy with the work of reclassification of those registrants who have been put in deferred classes. The questionnaire of every man in a deferred class will have to be gone over by members of both boards.

The legal advisory board has no power to change the classification of this power rests with the local board. However, the legal advisory board will investigate the circumstances, paying special attention to the advantages of those claiming exemption on dependency grounds.

After thoroughly investigating the cases the legal advisory board will make recommendations to the local exemption boards, who will do the reclassifying.

Although no definite figure can be given now as to the number of Ulster county men who will be transferred from the deferred classes and put in Class 1, it is that there will be quite a large number.

It is expected by the provost marshal general that at least 400,000 men throughout the country that have been put in deferred classes will be transferred to Class 1 as the result of the new classification.

As told in Wednesday's Freeman, Charles Hunter, met Wednesday noon with the members of the legal advisory board, and Tuesday night with the boards for Division 1, 2 and 3 of Ulster county. At these meetings the reclassification order was discussed in detail.

The following bulletin, relative to the reclassification, has been sent out by the adjutant general:

1. The rate at which men are being inducted into service indicates that Class 1 will soon be exhausted and it will then be necessary to go into more deferred classes. The work outlined below, therefore, should be so scientifically accomplished now as to avoid this necessity. The remedy is in your hands.

2. The provost marshal general directs that the records of local boards be examined for the purposes of reclassification of men who have been placed in deferred classes owing to error of judgment with a consequent increase of the number in Class 1.

3. He considers that this corrective procedure can be best carried out by the revision by the local boards, with the active assistance of government appeal agents and members of the legal advisory boards. 4. While it is realized that members of local boards together with government appeal agents and members of legal advisory boards have performed an enormous amount of work and rendered conspicuous service, it is believed that they will patriotically rally to the orders of the provost marshal general and of this office to the end that the state's man power in Class 1 may be materially increased.

5. It is therefore requested that government appeal agents and members of legal advisory boards shall immediately proceed to make a careful examination of questionnaires and records in the classes of cases above referred to and make such recommendations to the local boards as they may deem necessary in all cases in which they are satisfied that a reclassification should be made.

6. To this end, they should make complete investigations and when considered necessary call upon the registrar for additional information. Legal advisory boards are requested to call to their assistance their former associate members and such additional assistance as may be necessary. (Now members shall execute oath of office as required by the regulations) including members of bar associations, for the purpose of assisting in the examination of the questionnaires in conjunction with the appeal agent. In this manner it will be possible for every local board to obtain the best legal assistance and advice in the re-examination of cases and reclassification where found necessary.

7. Special attention must be directed to Class 2, A and B; Class 3, A, B, and C; Class 4, A and B. It will be found that there are large numbers of cases in Class 4 which should be in Class 1 or Class 2. Facts ascertained in this regard must be reported to the local board at once by the government appeal agent and the government appeal agent must appeal every case where a reclassification is not convincingly correct.

8. New standards of physical examinations are being issued and local boards are to re-examine under this new standard all doubtful cases in Group B, Group C, or Group D under the original examination or upon the rejection at camp. There will be found many men in Class V-G who under these new standards of physical examinations may be placed in the deferred remediable group.

9. It is understood, of course, that the activities of the local boards, government appeal agents and members of legal advisory boards are not to be limited to the above indicated cases of deferred classification where such activity is necessary.

10. The week commencing June 24th is hereby set aside as "Class 1 Increase Week" for local boards to conduct examinations of all doubtful cases. During this week local boards assisted by the government appeal agents and members of the legal advisory boards shall, if necessary, call before them and examine registrants, adopt any procedure for the correction of any mistake not only for the purpose of correcting injustice but to the end that Class 1 shall be increased. This must not be construed as preventing local boards from doing this work immediately, but it is expected by that time local boards and government appeal agents will be prepared to conduct such examination.

11. The government appeal agents shall take an appeal to the

DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE AND JOHN J. DILLON

Direct Statements Made by the Executive Committee of an Organization That Does Things.

The following statement by the executive committee of the Dairymen's League throws considerable light on the activities of one of the leaders of the Federation of Agriculture, an organization recently repudiated by the league, the State Grange and other real agricultural organizations.

For several months insidious and misleading attacks have been made upon the Dairymen's League by the Rural New Yorker of which John J. Dillon is publisher.

A few of our members who still retain a measure of confidence in Mr. Dillon believe these statements. Because of this, while we have heretofore ignored such attacks, we will now from time to time answer and disprove them, and show the relation of Mr. Dillon to the league from the beginning.

For many years the dairy farmers have been loyal patrons of the Rural New Yorker. Because of this and the consequent high prices charged for advertising, Mr. Dillon is reputed to be rich. We do not criticize him for this, nor for investing his wealth in city apartment hotels rather than in dairy farms. This is referred to only to show that the weight of his financial interests is that of a city real estate owner, and not that of a milk producer. Nor does his name appear on the list of members of the Dairymen's League.

Enemy of Organization.

For years, while loudly proclaiming his devotion to the farmers, and while claiming to assist them in organization, he has persistently attacked each of their large organizations, none of which has as yet submitted to his dictatorial control.

As a professed friend he has made more bitter assaults on the league than have its open enemies.

It is idle for him to state that his attack is not upon the league, but upon its officers. To destroy an opposing army by impairing the confidence of the rank and file in their officers are tactics that were old before he was born. By such tactics have other farm organizations been destroyed by their enemies.

League Will Publish Facts.

We will in the next issue of the League News, and through other channels, take up one by one the charges that have been made against the league by him, so that all may have a knowledge of the facts. We purpose to show:

1. His attitude towards the league from the beginning.
2. His humiliating failure as a Commissioner of Foods and Markets, and how, while openly professing hostility to commission men, he turned over farm products sent to his department for sale to such commission men for sale.
3. The exact relation of the Country Milk Company and the Dairymen's League, and the connection of R. D. Cooper with both.
4. The reasons why the league, the State Grange, and other large farmers' organization repudiated the so-called but misnamed Federation of Agriculture.
5. All other charges made by Mr. Dillon against the league, its officers and its policies.

All of these and other matters will be in later statements discussed in detail.

Mr. Dillon and the Milk Strike.

We will only state here that Mr. Dillon, who now claims to be the one who conducted and won the milk strike of 1916, was opposed to such strike, did nothing to assist it until he saw that it was destined to be a success, and then climbed on the band wagon and loudly proclaimed himself the Moses that had led the Children of Israel out of bondage.

In the summer of 1916 he was the Commissioner of Foods and Markets, occupying an office in the city of New York, the rent of which was paid by the state. A short time before the milk strike Mr. Cooper wrote him, requesting the use of such office by the league in case of trouble with the dealers. Mr. Dillon wrote a long letter in reply, much of it now being very interesting reading and quotations from it will be published from time to time. In such letter he stated in part as follows:

"In my judgment, your people will make a mistake if they undertake a strike against the New York dealers. There is little doubt in my mind in reference to it. I am convinced that it will not be a permanent success."

"We are not even in as good a position to conduct a strike as the producers around Chicago. In the first place they are better and more compactly organized than our people and the producers seem to be in a disposition to make sacrifices greater than our people have yet manifested."

Fortunately the directors of the league did not share in his lack of confidence in the loyalty and intelligence of our members. Against his advice the milk strike was called and won. He was of some assistance. It was he, however, nor any one man, that won the milk strike. The real heroes were the devoted men and women back on the farms who sacrificed that such war might be won, and who now would be the ones greatly injured should he succeed in his attempt to destroy their league.

Beyond question, these attacks of Mr. Dillon have made the milk dealers more bold, and the indications now are that they will, in the near future, force a milk war, hoping that the league has been so weakened by his attacks that they may be successful.

We have an abiding faith in the loyalty and intelligence of our members, and do not believe that these attempts to destroy the league will succeed.

This office is daily receiving assurances of loyalty from the great body of true men and women throughout the territory. If a milk war must come, we are ready for it.

Let them wear their prettiest things every day

"Hel-en!" Your mother would call out of the window, "don't romp like that in your good dress. Go sit on the porch like a little lady." You would glance scornfully at your best frock. How hard to give up your dear games just because you had on that homely thing!

Nowadays, even for play, children wear things that make them look and feel like fairies—sweaters and frocks of light pinks, blues and tans—even white. They can be cleaned easily and without harm to the fabric.

Lux has made the rubbing of soap on to fine garments a thing of the past.

The delicate flakes melt at once in the hot water. You toss Louise's little dresses, Freddy's little sweater into the rich suds—plop them up and down and the dirt just melts away. It is no trouble, no strain on delicate fabrics. If water alone won't injure them, Lux won't.

Get your package of Lux today at your grocer's, druggist's, or department store—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

To wash fine white fabrics

Use a tablespoonful of Lux to every gallon of water. Dissolve in very hot water and whisk into a thick lather. Let the sheer little white dresses and petticoats soak for a few minutes. Then dip them through the creamy lather again and again. Do not rub. Press the suds again and again through very soiled spots. Rinse in three waters, the same temperature as the water in which you washed them. Dry in the sun.

Fine colored fabrics—Wash as above but in lukewarm suds, and do not soak. Dry in the shade.

Australia's Part.

The wonder of the war has been the wondrous manner in which the colonies have rallied to the support of England. In "Over There" with the Australians" (Scribners) Captain Knuyett tells what Australia has given.

"Listen! Here is something of what Australia has paid. There has never been a day for three years that hundreds of Australian wives have not been made widows. There has not been a single week that there has not been more than a full page of casualties in our daily papers. Every woman in Australia if she has not seen the name of her one dear kin has seen the name of some one that she knows. I know a father and five sons that have all been killed. Within fifty miles of one town that I know there is not a man under fifty years of age. There are ranches and farms that will go back to the primeval wilderness, the fences will rot and fall down, and the rabbits and kangaroos will overrun them again, because the men who were developing them are gone and there are none to take their places. Never was there a country so starved for men, and sixty thousand are gone forever or maimed for life. Tell me, where are we going to replace these men? No country in the world could so ill afford to lose its young men, the future fathers of the race, for we have still our pioneering to do, a continent larger than the United States, with about the population of New York."

SENATORS BACK OF W. S. S. DRIVE

Ex-Mayor William D. Brimmer, Chairman of Ulster County, Receives Word from State Director W. J. Tully to That Effect.

Ex-Mayor William D. Brimmer, chairman of Ulster county in the big W. S. S. drive that starts Saturday has received word from State Director W. J. Tully showing that Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and Senator William M. Calder are backing up the big drive.

Senator Wadsworth, Jr., wired Director Tully as follows:

"This message is prompted by my very deep interest in the success of the intensive War Savings campaign culminating on National War Savings Day, June 28th, and your co-workers are charged with a most important and patriotic responsibility. I sincerely trust that you will be so successful that the evening of June 28th, shall find no citizen of New York state unenlisted in this nationally important movement."

William M. Calder, United States senator sends the following message:—"The unusual attention which the War Savings campaign is attracting at Washington prompts me to say that I hope our state is working hard to that its full quota may be pledged by June 28th. National War Savings Day, we cannot afford to allow other states which are certainly no more patriotic than ours to be ahead of us in this movement. I am sure you and your co-workers will bring our people to realize that it is their duty to save and to pledge the full quota during this nationally important campaign."

I ask that you present these messages to the people of your county through the newspapers and otherwise.

State Director.

O'Neil Street Barn on Fire.

This afternoon about 2 o'clock an alarm of fire was rung in from Box 73, corner of Broadway and Henry street. The fire department responded and found the roof of a barn in the rear of C. J. Rieseley's residence at No. 27 O'Neil street on fire. The fire burned a small hole in the roof, and the damage was slight. The fire was said to be caused by a spark lighting on the roof.

CONNELLY HAD A VACATION SURPRISE

He and Officer Saeblhoff Accosted by Secret Service Men in New York—They Thought Officer Connelly was Another Man, but All Ends Happily.

Officer James V. Connelly had a vacation surprise that was not slated on his program when he and his friend, Officer Ray Saeblhoff, both members of the police department, left Kingston to enjoy the first week of their annual "loaf."

They had decided to spend a few days in New York, and packing away their uniforms of blue they donned civilian clothes and took the first train for New York city. Then things began to happen.

According to their friends they were walking off the Weehawken ferry when four men stepped up to them and asked who they were and where they were going. Naturally they were somewhat surprised.

They said so and the four men displayed badges and stated they were secret service men. The cream of the joke was that they mistook Officer Connelly for one Arthur Jeremiah O'Leary case.

Officer Connelly looks about as much like Mr. Lyons as he resembles General Pershing, which is not at all. Fortunately for Officer Connelly he wore his police badge and was otherwise enabled to identify himself to the satisfaction of the secret service men who apologized for the trouble they had made for Officer Connelly.

Aside from the episode, Officer Connelly had one of the most enjoyable vacations in years, and so did Officer Saeblhoff.

Father Hall at Holy Cross.

A three line item in The Freeman announcing that the Rev. Charles Mercer Hall, affectionately known as Father Hall, rector of St. Mary's Church, Asheville, N. C., would preach at the Holy Cross Church on Sunday brought joy to a large number of families in this city. Long before the service began streams of people were hurrying to the church to see and listen to their loved friend and former rector, so when the choir and acolytes came down from the chancel into the front pews for the sermon every seat in the large church was filled. It was an "old time" Father Hall congregation, and reminded his friends of the days of his popular pastorate here. After the services were concluded an impromptu reception was given him, every one affectionately greeting him, words of comfort came from him to those who needed consolation. Before leaving the church he officiated at the baptism of the child of one of his old friends. Father Hall's name will always be closely linked with the destiny of the Holy Cross Church, while his wonderful work in Kingston will be gratefully remembered.

Washington, June 20.—The department of justice has recognized the claims of many religious sects which make it imperative for female members to wear a headress, and in registering female German aliens has permitted the registrants to keep their heads covered in posing for their photograph on their identification card. All United States marshals have been notified that where such a regulation is prescribed by any members of any religious community or denomination, the wearing of the headress as part of the habit will be permitted in taking the photograph.

O'LEARY EXPLAINS DISAPPEARANCE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 20.—Jeremiah O'Leary, noted Irish agitator, today explained his recent disappearance and flight to the Pacific coast by declaring that he had suffered two nervous breakdowns and a complication of diseases from overwork. He made the explanation while testifying in the trial of his brother, John J. O'Leary, accused of conspiracy in aiding Jeremiah O'Leary to escape. Jeremiah O'Leary will be tried soon on a charge of treason.

O'Leary said that the overwork he meant was in the last presidential campaign.

"I worked so hard that I suffered a nervous breakdown," he testified. "I learned from a doctor that I had Bright's disease and chronic appendicitis. I was told I would have to go to a sanitarium."

In his testimony he said: "If I believe I'm right, no one on God's earth can stop me."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 20.—There was a vigorous demand for stocks at the opening of the stock market today and during the first fifteen minutes nearly all of the leading issues made gains of a point or more. Marine Preferred was the most prominent feature of the early trading moving up 1 1/2 to 104 1/2. There was active trading in the steel industries generally with American Locomotive moving up one point to 67 1/2. U. S. Steel rose 3/4 to 103 3/4, and fractional gains were made in Midvale, Bethlehem and Baldwin. C. & G. Stores made the greatest gain advancing 2 1/2 to 98 1/2. Tobacco products rose 1 1/2 to 65 1/2. Pittsburgh and West Virginia rose 1 1/2 to 36 1/2 and the preferred rose 1 1/2 to 37 1/2. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was exceptionally weak, falling 2 1/2 to 40 and the five percent notes dropped over one point to 94 1/2. International Paper was again in demand, advancing 1 1/2 to 40 1/2. Pecos Steel rose 1 1/2 to 66 1/2 and American Sumatra rose 2 points to 140 1/2.

After a show of strength in the first half hour the market tone became irregular with most issues tending downward. Marine Preferred, after selling up to 104 1/2, dropped to 102 1/2 and Steel Common fell from 103 1/2 to 102 1/2. International Paper dropped from 98 1/2 to 97 1/2. The stock market closed strong today. Government bonds unchanged, railway and other bonds irregular.

Stanley-Nichols.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at Lake Katrine on Wednesday, June 19, when Elizabeth Jane Stanley, only daughter of William Stanley, was married to Charles Edward Nichols, Jr., of Kingston. The house was charming with its lavish decorations of pink and white roses, with ferns and palms. Ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur Cole of the First Baptist Church of Kingston. They were attended by Miss Jane Terwilliger and Charles Burger of Kingston. The bride and her attendant were gowned in white crepe de chine and carried immense bouquets of pink and white roses. Wedding march was played by Mrs. David Kieffer. Guests included Alfred Faber of Brooklyn, Mrs. Girard L. McEntee, Charles E. Nichols and wife, Walter Wright and wife, David Boyd and wife of Kingston and Howard Osterhout of Flatbush. They received a number of pretty and useful gifts, including rugs, china, cut glass and silver. The groom left at 6 o'clock south bound train for a short wedding trip and on their return will make their home in Lake Katrine, where the groom has a responsible position with Brink Brothers, the general merchants. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Lantern Fly a Brilliant Insect.

The lantern fly of South America is said to be by far the most brilliant of all luminous insects. It sometimes measures more than 2 inches in length. The shape of the head is very curious. It is furnished with a hollow transparent snout nearly the length of the body, whence comes the lamplike light.

WILL OPEN CHILD WELFARE HOME

Health Board to Rent Hasbrouck Avenue Building—Miss Bates Engaged as Nurse—Slaughter House Men Warned—Other Matters.

The board of health at its special meeting held Wednesday evening definitely decided to open a child welfare station in Kingston for the summer months. The matter of leasing the Jacobson building on Hasbrouck avenue at the head of Murray street, was referred to the sanitary committee with power. Max Jacobson, formerly kept a clothing store in the building, and later it was used as a saloon until the elimination board got busy and placed it on the retired list.

It was reported at the meeting that the building could be rented for $20 a month. The sanitary committee had investigated a number of buildings downtown but were of the impression that this building was the most suited for the purpose for which it will be used.

The committee has engaged Miss Ella L. Bates of Albany, a trained nurse with considerable experience in child welfare work, to have charge of Kingston's first station. She will be paid $25 a week. She is expected in Kingston about June 25, when she will take up her work.

Siller and Amdur Warned.

Jacob Siller and Louis Amdur, both of whom have slaughter houses downtown, appeared before the board, having been notified to appear at the session to explain why their slaughter houses were not kept in a sanitary condition. Mrs. Michael had investigated both slaughter houses three times and had found them unsanitary.

It also developed that Amdur kept his place cleaner than Siller and the board let him off easier than it did Siller.

After both men had a chance to explain Mayor Canfield informed Amdur that in his case it was probably due to carelessness that his place was not up to the mark when visited by Mrs. Michael. In Siller's case there had been a number of complaints, which, when investigated, were justly founded, said the mayor.

It required only a little effort and work on Siller's part, said the mayor, to keep his place clean, and he could do it. If he did not then the board would close his place.

Dr. Loughran Health Officer.

On motion of Dr. E. E. Norwood, which was adopted, Dr. E. H. Loughran was appointed acting health officer until the next meeting of the board.

719 Cases of Measles.

Dr. J. R. Gillett, acting health officer the past month, submitted a report on the measles up to date Wednesday, showing that since the first of April there had been 719 cases reported. Since then 635 have been released, leaving 84 still under quarantine. The total number of cases reported since June 1, was 123.

I am one of Civilization's Titans

Hidden underground for millions of years, I come forth at last, genii-like, to work wonders at your slightest wish.

I shoulder man's burdens! I bring light to his home and his workshop; I cook his food, warm his house, heat his bath—I am his personal bodyguard and slave.

In his factories and among his huge industrial plants, I labor ceaselessly at a thousand tasks. Through me the wheels of industry turn faster—metal is melted, molded and tempered, lumber is dried, enamels are applied, clothing is shaped, foods are prepared.

Wherever a clear, mellow, restful light is needed—wherever a clean, reliable, economical heat is called for—my services are in demand.

I am the possessor of a triumphant past—of a big, vital present—of a magnificent future.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Anderson District School No. 1, Addressed by Supt. Gillette.

The closing days of Public School No. 1 (Anderson District) was fittingly observed at "Fairview," the home of Mrs. Fannie Steward. The parents of the children gathered on the spacious lawn, decorated with flags, bunting and flowers, where the school children rendered a splendid program under the direction of Miss Cookingham, the teacher. At the close of the program the pupils and guests were served with ice cream, cake, root beer. It was a gathering where every one seemed to have a good time. At the close those assembled expressed themselves by tendering a vote of thanks to Mrs. Fannie Steward, Miss Ruth Cookingham, and Catherine Hummel for the kind hospitality rendered the people present.

The address of Superintendent John U. Gillette in presenting the service flag to the board of education was as follows:

Pupils and Friends of the School: I desire to congratulate you upon the completion of another year's work. You have selected for another year for trustees the Rev. C. H. Polhemus, college man and agriculturist; E. H. Hathaway, college man, civil engineer and agriculturalist, and Harry Hummel, a stirring native of the place and an efficient superintendent of "Fairview." The combined judgment of these gentlemen augurs well for the future educational interests of your community for the coming school year.

I am here by the invitation of your teacher, Miss Cookingham directly, but I assume we are assembled here as an audience by the courtesy of Mrs. Fannie Steward, upon this spacious estate, "Fairview," once the home of the owner of the famous Mary Powell, overlooking the beautiful Hudson bearing upon its bosom the riches of trade and skirted by the pathway of commerce, an ideal spot indeed for the closing exercises of our school.

Mrs. Steward having been a trained teacher, herself a graduate of a college for teachers, possesses a keen interest for proper school activities. It has been a great pleasure to work with the trustees, patrons, teachers, and pupils of this school in the past and is ought to be a source of congratulation to you all that, when the state authorities could have compelled the erection of a new school building at a cost of approximately $4,000, your board and superintendent made alterations to meet requirement for less than $100, and got away with it.

Whether by accident or design your closing day is coincident with "Flag Day," and this suggests a few additional words.

Our flag had its birth by a resolution of congress, June 14, 1777. There had been various flags used by the American Colonies and floated from the masts of men-of-war prior to this date, but the first real American flag had its origin 141 years ago in our national capital.

And what a wonderful banner it is. Not old you say? And yet it is older than the proud flag of Great Britain adopted in 1801, older than the flag of Spain, 1785, or the tricolor of France, 1794, or the German Empire of 1870. This flag which you and I love has a most wonderful history since the early days. It was given birth by the great Washington. It was thrown to the breeze at Brandywine and Germantown in 1777. It gave comfort to the starting soldiers at Valley Forge. It was present at the decisive battle of Yorktown.

It is floating from the masts of our navy and army today, and from beneath its folds on its 141st birthday, there comes voices from within its folds of those gallant warriors, Perry, Hull, Decatur, Farragut, Hobson and others calling to our heroic in our present struggle to uphold the splendid traditions of the past; by striking the greatest blow which it has ever been called upon to deal; for humanity, and as proud Americans we have faith that our men of the navy will sustain the proud traditions of our seamen, and do its share for human freedom.

Today this flag re-echoes Patrick Henry's call from Virginia, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death." It is spreading Paul Revere's words through "Middletown Village and Farm." It is upholding President Wilson's "Bible Call to Liberty." Pupils and friends, the lesson today is loyalty to our flag and country.

When we gaze on old glory, we see, not only the colors but we should see and grasp what they represent and what they stand for. It stands for freedom, justice and humanity. The red signifies heroism; the white, purity, and the blue, devotion, and there is only one flag for us all and that is the Stars and Stripes. There can be only one flag for true Americans who have sat under its graceful folds and if we are loyal the following lines will express our heart felt wish, "The Star Spangled Banner, Oh, Long May It Wave, O'er the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave."

This service flag which I hold appears sacred to me. It represents the young manhood of your community. This flag purchased by you and your friends is to do honor to the memory of those boys. The red of Old Glory floating from yonder halcyons over "Fairview" is reflected in this service flag; the white of Old Glory is reflected in this flag; the blue of Old Glory is also reflected in this flag.

The young men from this district have been called to take part in the greatest struggle the world has ever known. They have left home and all that was dear to them to fight, your battles and mine, and there is not a thing, which is with n the gift of this patriotic community which is to good for them. May the objects for which they have entered this struggle be speedily attained, and they be restored in good health and with honor to their homes and friends. I esteem it a great honor to be granted the privilege to represent this community in presenting this service flag to the board of trustees of this school.

The Rev. C. H. Polhemus accepted the flag on behalf of the board trustees in a most eloquent speech.

The young men in the service are: Percy Taylor, David West, Harold Ellsworth, Edwin Doyle, Jeffrey Stagnell, Albert Cornack.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Smart Style for the Young Miss. 2276—Here is a pretty model for charmuse, poplin, satin or taffeta, and equally nice for the new duvetyne, cashmeres or gabardines. The dress is cut with one piece lines and has pretty pockets inserted at the side seams. The sleeves are new and dart fitted. A good feature of this model is that the fronts may be finished with open neck, or rolled up in high closing.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 14 will require 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10c in silver or stamps for our Up-to-Date Spring and Summer, 1918, Catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking; also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dress-maker.

Ashokan, June 20.—Miss Ada Cudney has purchased an auto. Mr. and Mrs. Moses Bishop visited at Mrs. E. R. Kenney's Sunday.

Miss Lizzie Secor of Kingston spent Saturday night with Mrs. Walter Bogart.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Kingston and Mrs. Ada Lane of Newark, N. J., are spending the week with Mrs. Lewis Tholl.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barclay spent Sunday at Wittenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bogart and Mrs. Smith were up to their summer home over the week end.

Mrs. E. D. M. Secor returned home Sunday after a visit at her mother's in Pleasanton.

Mrs. Walter Bogart spent Wednesday with Mrs. Cyrus Cudney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kenney left on Monday for a visit in Schenectady.

The entertainment given by the school children June 13 in aid of the Red Cross was a decided success. All the children took their parts exceptionally well and the flag drill was fine. Music was furnished by Mrs. Perry, Hull, Decatur, Farragut, Hobson and others calling to our heroic in our present struggle to uphold the splendid traditions of the past; by striking the greatest blow which it has ever been called upon to deal; for humanity, and as proud Americans we have faith that our men of the navy will sustain the proud traditions of our seamen, and do its share for human freedom.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Police headquarters received word at 5 o'clock this morning from a driver for Phillips' garage on Broadway that the Ford car stolen by two soldiers from in front of the residence of John Goldrick on Delaware avenue the other morning was abandoned along the road between Hurley and Stone Ridge. The police are of the impression that the car was taken by two soldiers who were in a hurry to get back to camp as they had over-stayed their leave of absence.

Willie is being laid on Downs street and it is expected that that street will be completed by Monday or Tuesday of next week.

There were no cases in police court this morning.

The police are searching for John C. Landrum. He was arrested on Albany avenue Saturday evening by Officer Soper on a charge of disorderly conduct. It is claimed he was drunk and singing—that is making a noise supposed to be "singing"—at the top of his voice. He was paroled until Monday morning but failed to "keep the date" in police court.

The extremely cool nights so far this month have not agreed with the war gardens to any extent.

Those who have doffed the "heavies" for the "lighter" find that it works better during the day than at night, especially if they have to be out on the street during the evening.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE'S WORK

Most important among the things a community can do to save its quota of the hundred thousand lives is to protect its children by employing public health nurses, according to a statement issued today by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor.

Many parents have learned from the weighing and measuring test, which is being carried on in Kingston as a part of the national test of the welfare of American children, of their children's special needs. They can do much to meet these needs and to bring under weight children up to the average if they have the support of public health nurses, who can look after the well being of the children found by the test to be undernourished, and protect from illness other children who are now well.

England has set it as her standard to have one such nurse for every 500 births reported annually. With the act in force in England requiring that a public health official be notified within 36 hours after the birth of a child, and an adequate force of nurses, it is possible for every mother to receive the immediate attention which may be the means of saving a child's life.

New Zealand, which has secured and maintained for a number of years lower infant mortality rates than those recorded by any other country, has made special effort to send throughout its islands qualified nurses whose duty it is to give gratis to any member of the community desiring their services sound reliable instruction, advice and assistance on matters affecting the health and well being of women and their children. New Zealand's infant death rate is scarcely more than half that of the United States. Even under the strain of war, England reduced her rate in 1916 to 9 points below that for the United States birth registration area. Both are employing public health nurses to a large extent. It is on the basis of these facts that the children's bureau urges that as a part of the work to save 100,000 babies every community shall have public health nurses available for service and instruction.

PORK DISPLACES BEEF ON MENUS

By Leaps and Bounds Orders for Loins Take Place of Beef—Curious Misunderstanding by Hotel Men—Fear of Beef Gluttony a Paradoxical Fact.

An inquiry made among hotels and restaurants and the butchers in the city to find out as near as possible how well the recent order of the government restricting consumption of beef is being observed, resulted in bringing out a few interesting facts.

There is no doubt there is a general compliance with the order not only at the restaurants and hotels but among the families.

There has been for several days a run of caterers into the office of W. C. Shafer, the county food administrator. They want to know what the government order really requires.

Some claim to be mixed up in one day order is another. In the case of one hotel keeper he wanted to know if the order forbids serving one particular guest more than once a week. He thought he could serve beef as many times as new guests come in.

Another was certain that the government requires all hotel and restaurant men to serve beef as directed at the same meal and on the same day. He was quite indignant when told that hadn't anything to do with it. He was sure he would lose customers unless all served beef at the same meal in the week.

Would Stop Steak Gluttons. "They will come to my place and get steaks at one meal and when they are told steaks can't be served again until next week they will go to another hotel or restaurant where steaks are served at another meal. In that way anyone can have steaks nearly every meal. I am sure the government won't allow that."

Others were sure that Hamburg steaks were not included nor beef steaks because they are not specifically mentioned.

Here is the exact language of the essential part of the order from which it will be seen that it is hard to understand how the order can be misunderstood. While the order does not specifically annul the porkless day order it wording makes it clear that porkless days are no longer required. The fact is the demand for pork is going up in bounds:

Effect on Hotels. The order forbids all hotels and restaurants to place on their menus or serve boiled beef more than two meals, beefsteak more than one meal and roast beef more than one meal a week. Householders should not buy more than 1 1/2 pounds of clear beef a week a person.

The reference to householders is not interpreted as an absolute command though most families will accept it as that and all patriotic families will observe it so far as possible. The exceptions would be regarded as valid only in cases of sickness where an invalid might be depending on the use of beef for the necessary nourishment.

Soups a Problem. At the Stuyvesant Hotel Mrs. Carrie C. Winne, who superintends the dining service, said: "The greatest hardship to us will be in the lack of beef and beef bones for soup. Beef is the basis of our best soups though other material is necessary for a change in the menus. As for meats there are many things that can be served in the place of beef, such as lamb, veal, pork and poultry and beans. Since the order permits beef to be served in three styles at altogether four meals a week there is no real hardship in observing that part of the order. The only unfortunate result I see in it is that in restricting beef it will tend up the price of fish and salads. I didn't learn of the order until yesterday, when I at once put it into effect."

Harvey Sammons on East Strand, said: "It doesn't affect us at all. Other meats are readily substituted for beef with no hardship to the customers. Lesser quantity of these meats are served in orders and they are just as satisfying. I think it is a boon to the restaurant men for beef was so high we couldn't serve the quality of beef we desire to serve for the price we charge."

Hard on Hamburgers. The lunch rooms seem to be hit harder than any other class of food caterers for their range of foods is not as large as in the ordinary restaurants and consist almost entirely of the few kinds of foods that are more commonly called for, which can be easily prepared and quickly served. One large item of meat served in the lunch room and especially in the lunch wagon is Hamburg steak. While this is not specifically mentioned in the order it of course comes within its meaning. Hamburg served in sandwiches and in many other ways is not easily substituted for a warm meal. Dispensing with Hamburg will of course lead to a larger quantity of cold meat sandwiches and the demand for eggs, which are very high.

Rose & Ackert on Railroad avenue said they had always observed faithfully the restrictions placed by the government on food. "If this had come on us earlier in the month it would have been so hard on us for we have served strawberries daily which has not been the case in most restaurants and lunch rooms in the city. Our customers will take kindly to the new order and our business will go on the same as ever."

Pierson & Dorr at 53 East Strand cater largely to small orders quickly. "We sell so few steaks or beef in any form that the order don't affect us."

Ed. Weber, Broadway and Abel street, said: "We have already observed a change from beef to other meats. Largely to pork loins and ham. This is the case in the orders we put up for our family trade as well as for restaurants, so it must be that our customers ordering for home consumption are observing the suggestion to buy only 1 1/2 pounds of beef a week for each person."

The downtown butchers who are large purveyors of meats take the order completely. Planthaber, East Strand, said: "We have already observed a change from beef to other meats. Largely to pork loins and ham. This is the case in the orders we put up for our family trade as well as for restaurants, so it must be that our customers ordering for home consumption are observing the suggestion to buy only 1 1/2 pounds of beef a week for each person."

REGISTRANTS TO BE RECLASSIFIED

Local Exemption Boards to Be Assisted by the Legal Advisory Board in Revising Deferred Class—Many Will Be Transferred to Class 1.

Members of the local exemption boards and the legal advisory board will be kept very busy with the work of reclassification of those registrants who have been put in deferred classes. The questionnaire of every man in a deferred class will have to be gone over by members of both boards.

The legal advisory board has no power to change the classification on its own power, but the local board, however, the legal advisory board will investigate the circumstances, paying special attention to the affidavits of those claiming exemption on dependency grounds.

After thoroughly investigating the cases the legal advisory board will make recommendations to the local exemption boards, who will do the reclassifying.

Although no definite figure can be given now as the number of Ulster county men will be transferred from the deferred classes and put in Class 1, it is that there will be quite a large number.

It is expected by the provost marshal general that at least 10,000 men throughout the country that have been put in deferred classes will be transferred to Class 1 as the result of the new classification.

As told in Wednesday's Freeman, Charles Hume, met Wednesday noon with the members of the legal advisory board, and the day after with the boards for Division 1, 2 and 3 of Ulster county. At these meetings the reclassification order was discussed in detail.

The following bulletin, relative to the reclassification, has been sent out by the adjutant general:

1. The rate at which men are being inducted into service indicates that Class 1 will soon be exhausted and it will then be necessary to go into more deferred classes. The work outlined below, therefore, should be so scientifically accomplished now as to avoid this necessity. The remedy is in your hands.

2. The provost marshal general directs that the records of local boards be examined for the purposes of reclassification of men who have been placed in deferred classes owing to error of judgment with a consequent increase of the number in Class 1.

3. He considers that this corrective procedure can be best carried out by the revision by the local boards, with the active assistance of government appeal agents and members of the legal advisory boards.

4. While it is realized that members of local boards together with government appeal agents and members of legal advisory boards have performed an enormous amount of work and rendered conspicuous service, it is believed that they will permit only a few of the cases of provost marshal general and of this office, to the end that the state's man power in Class 1 may be materially increased.

5. It is therefore requested that government appeal agents and members of legal advisory boards shall immediately proceed to make a careful examination of questionnaires and records in the classes of cases above referred to and make such recommendations to the local boards as they may deem necessary in all cases in which they are satisfied that a reclassification should be made.

6. To this end, they should make complete investigation and when considered necessary call upon the registrant for additional information. Legal advisory boards are requested to call to their assistance their former associate members and such additional associate members as may be necessary. (Now members shall execute oath of office as required by the regulations) including members of bar associations, for the purpose of assisting in the examination of the questionnaires in conjunction with the appeal agent. In this manner it will be possible for every local board to obtain the best legal assistance and advice in the re-examination of cases and reclassification where found necessary.

7. Special attention must be directed to Class 2, A and B; Class 3, A, B, and C; Class 4, A and Class 5. It will be found that there are large numbers of cases in Class 4, which should be in Class 1 or Class 2. Factors ascertained in this regard must be reported to the local board at once by the government appeal agent and the government appeal agent must appear every case where a reclassification is not convincingly correct.

8. New standards of physical examinations are being issued and local boards are to re-examine under this new standard all doubtful cases in Group B, Group C, or Group D under the original examination or upon the rejection at camp. There will be found many men in Class V-G who under these new standards of physical examination may be placed in the deferred removable group.

9. It is understood, of course, that the activities of the local boards, government appeal agents and members of legal advisory boards are not to be limited to the above indicated cases of deferred classification where such activity is necessary.

10. The government appeal agents shall take an appeal to the

Nora Bayes tells the Kaiser About those "Regretful Blues"

You'll enjoy hearing this vigorous, tuneful song just as much as "Our Nora" enjoyed singing it—and that's saying a good deal. A happy time will be had by all except the Kaiser—and we won't worry about him. On the back, "A Little Bit of Sunshine," another sturdy, cheerful song just made for Nora Bayes. A6038—$1.25

"The Yanks Started Yanking"

A rollicking tune, sung by Arthur Fields, with this irresistible chorus: "The Russians were rushin' the Prussians, The Prussians were crushin' the Russians, The Balkans were balkin' and Turkey was squawkin', Rasputin disputin' and Italy scootin', The Boches all bulled Bolshheviks, The British were skittish at sea, But the good Lord I'm thankin', The Yanks started yankin' and yanked Kaiser Bill up a tree!" ## "I'm in Love!"

It's Gus Van in a new character song that's a scream. He's got a bad case of love, and his description of the symptoms will keep you roaring from beginning to end. On the back, "How'd you like to be my Daddy?" another melodious gale of laughter by the Winter Garden favorites, the Farber Sisters. A2525—75c

DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE AND JOHN J. DILLON

Direct Statements Made by the Executive Committee of an Organization That Does Things.

The following statement by the executive committee of the Dairymen's League throws considerable light on the activities of one of the leaders of the Federation of Agriculture, an organization recently repudiated by the league, the State Grange and other real agricultural organizations:

For several months insidious and misleading attacks have been made upon the Dairymen's League by the Rural New Yorker of which John J. Dillon is publisher.

A few of our members who still retain a measure of confidence in Mr. Dillon believe these statements. Because of this, while we have heretofore ignored such attacks, we will now from time to time answer and disprove them, and show the relation of Mr. Dillon to the league from the beginning.

For many years the dairy farmers have been loyal patrons of the Rural New Yorker. Because of this and the consequent high prices charged for advertising, Mr. Dillon is reputed to be rich. We do not criticize him for this, nor for investing his wealth in city apartment hotels rather than in dairy farms. This is referred to only to show that the weight of his financial interests is that of a city real estate owner, and not that of a milk producer. Nor does his name appear on the list of members of the Dairymen's League.

Enemy of Organization.

For years, while loudly proclaiming his devotion to the farmers, and while claiming to assist them in organization, he has persistently attacked each of their large organizations, none of which has as yet submitted to his dictatorial control.

As a professed friend he has made more bitter assaults on the league than have its open enemies. It is idle for him to state that his attack is not upon the league, but upon its officers. To destroy an opposing army by impairing the confidence of the rank and file in their officers are tactics that were old before he was born. By such tactics have other farm organizations been destroyed by their enemies.

League Will Publish Facts.

We will in the next issue of the League News, and through other channels, take up one by one the charges that have been made against the league by him, so that all may have a knowledge of the facts. We purpose to show:

1. His attitude towards the league from the beginning.
2. His humiliating failure as a Commissioner of Foods and Markets, and how, while openly professing hostility to commission men, he turned over farm products sent to his department for sale to such commission men for sale.
3. The recent action of the Country Milk Company and the Dairymen's League, and the connection of R. D. Cooper with both.
4. The reasons why the league, the State Grange, and other large farmers' organizations repudiated the so-called but unnamed Federation of Agriculture.
5. All other charges made by Mr. Dillon against the league, its officers and its policies.

All of these and other matters will be in later statements discussed in detail.

Mr. Dillon and the Milk Strike.

We will only state here that Mr. Dillon, who now claims to be the one who conducted and won the milk strike of 1916, was opposed to such strike, did nothing to assist it until he saw that it was destined to be a success, and then climbed on the band wagon and loudly proclaimed himself the Moses that had led the Children of Israel out of bondage.

In the summer of 1916 he was the Commissioner of Foods and Markets, occupying an office in the city of New York, the rent of which was paid by the state. A short time before the milk strike Mr. Cooper wrote him requesting the use of such office by the league in case of trouble with the dealers. Mr. Dillon wrote a long letter in reply, much of it now being very interesting reading and quotations from it will be published from time to time.

In such letter he stated in part as follows:

"In my judgment, your people will make a mistake if they undertake a strike against the New York dealers. There is little doubt in my mind in reference to it. I am convinced that it will not be a permanent success. . . .

"We are not even in as good a position to conduct a strike as the producers around Chicago. In the first place they are better and more compactly organized than our people and the producers seem to be in a disposition to make sacrifices greater than our people have yet manifested."

Fortunately the directors of the league did not share in his lack of confidence in the loyalty and intelligence of our members. Against his advice the milk strike was called and won. He was of some assistance. It was he, however, nor any one man, that won the milk strike. The real heroes were the devoted men and women back on the farms who sacrificed that such war might be won, and who now would be the ones greatly injured should he succeed in his attempt to destroy their league.

Beyond question, these attacks of Mr. Dillon have made the milk dealers more bold, and the indications now are that they will, in the near future, force a milk war, hoping that the league has been so weakened by his attacks that they may be successful.

We have an abiding faith in the loyalty and intelligence of our members, and do not believe that these attempts to destroy the league will succeed.

This office is daily receiving assurances of loyalty from the great body of true men and women throughout the territory. If a milk war must come, we are ready for it. (Signed) EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, THE DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE, INC.

Mother's bestest party dress
Just near gingham—such a mess!
And it had no lace at all—Oh, what a mess!"

Let them wear their prettiest things every day

"Hel-en!" Your mother would call out of the window, "don't romp like that in your good dress. Go sit on the porch like a little lady."

You would glance scornfully at your best frock. How hard to give up your dear games just because you had on that homely thing!

Nowadays, even for play, children wear things that make them look and feel like fairies—sweaters and frocks of light pinks, blues and tans—even white. They can be cleaned easily and without harm to the fabric.

Lux has made the rubbing of soap on to fine garments a thing of the past.

The delicate flakes melt at once in the hot water. You toss Louise's little dress, Freddy's little sweater into the rich suds—pop them up and down and the dirt just melts away. It is no trouble, no strain on delicate fabrics. If water alone won't injure them, Lux won't.

Get your package of Lux today at your grocer, druggist's, or department store—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

To wash fine white fabrics
Use a tablespoonful of Lux to every gallon of water. Dissolve in very hot water and whisk into a thick lather. Let the sheet little white dresses and petticoats soak for a few minutes. Then dip them through the creamy lather again and again. Do not rub. Press the suds again and again through very soiled spots. Rinse in three waters, the same temperature as the water in which you washed them. Dry in the sun.

Fine colored fabrics—Wash as above but in lukewarm suds, and do not soak. Dry in the shade.

Australia's Part.

The wonder of the war has been the whole-souled manner in which the colonies have rallied to the support of England.

In "Over There" with the "Australians" (Scribners) Captain Knysvett tells what Australia has given.

"Listen! Here is something of what Australia has paid. There has never been a day for three years that hundreds of Australian wives have not been made widows. There has not been a single week that there has not been more than a full page of casualties in our daily papers. Every woman in Australia if she has not seen the name of her near kin has seen the name of some one that she knows. I know a father and five sons that have all been killed. Within fifty miles of one town that I know there is not a man under fifty years of age. There are ranches and farms that will go back to the primordial wilderness, the fences will rot and fall down, and the rabbits and kangaroos will overrun them again, because the men who were developing them are gone and there are none to take their places. Never was there a country so starved for men, and sixty thousand are gone forever or maimed for life. Tell me, where are we going to replace these men? No country in the world could so ill afford to lose its young men, the future fathers of the race, for we have still our pioneering to do, a continent larger than the United States, with about the population of New York."

WEST HURLEY.

West Hurley, June 20.—Michael Joyce, Sr., is waiting his daughter in Hudson.

W. H. Burhans and sister, Miss

Nettie Burhans, of Kingston spent last Saturday in this place.

Ward Van Steenburgh enjoyed a trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls the past week, returning with an automobile.

Lucien Hubbard and family of New York city, who have been here getting their cottage ready for the summer, was called back to the city on business Tuesday.

The Children's Day exercises that were held last Sunday evening, were well rendered and enjoyed by a large audience.

Miss Edna Lee of Kingston has been visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Dr. Sutton of Prattsville, N. Y., and sons, Lyle of Albany and Paul of Prattsville spent the week end at the home of Wesley Mosher.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson of Kingston spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Joyce.

Frank Van DeBogart and family spent Sunday at Enos Every's.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Joyce, Jr., spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother in Roxbury.

Mrs. Elton Every and son, Kendall, of Kingston are visiting at Moses Every's.

The Food Conservation meeting, which was held in the church on Tuesday evening, was greatly enjoyed. The speakers were Mrs. Chandler of Kingston, Mrs. Warren of Hurley and Miss Stuart of Farm Bureau.

SENATORS BACK OF W. S. S. DRIVE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
E-Mayor William D. Brimmer, Chairman of Ulster County, Receives Word from State Director W. J. Tully to That Effect.

Senator William M. Calder, Chairman of Ulster county in the big W. S. S. drive that starts Saturday has received word from State Director W. J. Tully showing that Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr. and Senator William M. Calder are backing up the big drive.

Senator Wadsworth, Jr. wired Director Tully as follows:

"This message is prompted by my very deep interest in the success of the intensive War Savings campaign culminating on National War Savings Day, June 28th, you and your co-workers are charged with a most important and patriotic responsibility. I sincerely trust that your efforts may be so successful that the evening June 28th, shall find no citizen of New York state unenlisted in this nationally important movement."

William M. Calder, United States senator sends the following message:—"The unusual attention which the War Savings campaign is attracting at Washington prompts me to say that I hope our state is working hard so that its full quota may be pledged by June 28th. National War Savings Day, we cannot afford to allow other states which are certainly no more patriotic than ours to be ahead of us in this movement. I am sure you and your co-workers will be zealous people to realize that it is their duty to save and to pledge the full quota during this nationally important campaign."

I ask that you present these messages to the people of your county through the newspapers and otherwise.

W. J. TULLY,
State Director.

Stock Yards Licenses.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 20.—President Wilson in a proclamation issued today places all stock yards under license, beginning June 27. To the secretary of agriculture is dedicated the duties of carrying into effect the provisions of the act and all departments of the government are directed to co-operate with him in administering the new license system.

O'Neil Street Burn on Fire.

This afternoon about 2 o'clock an alarm of fire was rung in from Box 75, corner of Broadway and Henry street. The fire department responded and found the fire at a barn in the rear of C. J. Risley's residence at No. 27 O'Neil street. The fire burned a small hole in the roof, and the damage was slight. The fire was said to be caused by a spark alighting on the roof.

CONNELLY HAD A VACATION SURPRISE

He and Officer Sachloff Arrested by Secret Service Men in New York—They Thought Officer Connelly was Another Man, but All Ends Happily.

Officer James V. Connelly had a vacation surprise that was not slated on his program when he and his friend, Officer Ray Sachloff, both members of the police department, left Kingston to enjoy the first week of their annual "loaf."

They had decided to spend a few days in New York, and packing away their uniforms of blue they donned civilian clothes and took the first train for New York city. Then things began to happen.

According to their friends they were walking off the Westchester ferry when four men stepped up to them and asked who they were and where they were going. Naturally they were somewhat surprised.

They said so and the four men displayed badges and stated they were secret service men. The cream of the joke was that they mistook Officer Connelly for one Arthur Connelly who was wanted in the famous Joseph O'Leary case.

Officer Connelly looks about as much like Mr. O'Leary as he resembles General Pershing, which is not at all. Fortunately for Officer Connelly he wore his police badge and was otherwise enabled to identify himself to the satisfaction of the secret service men who apologized for the trouble they had made for Officer Connelly.

Aside from the episode, Officer Connelly had one of the most enjoyable vacations in years, and so did Officer Sachloff.

Father Hall at Holy Cross.

A three line item in The Freeman announcing that the Rev. Charles Meyer Hall, affectionately known as Father Hall, rector of St. Mary's Church, Asheville, N. C., would preach at the Holy Cross Church on Sunday brought joy to a large number of families in this city. Long before the service began streams of people were hurrying to the church to see and listen to their loved friend and former rector, so when the choir and acolytes came down from the chancel into the front pews for the sermon every seat in the large church was filled. It was an "old time" Father Hall congregation, and reminded his friends of the days of his popular pastorate here. After the service was concluded an impressive reception was given him, everyone affectionately greeting him, while words of comfort came from him to those who needed consolation. Before leaving the church he officiated at the baptism of the child of one of his old friends. Father Hall's name will always be closely linked with the history of the Holy Cross Church, while his wonderful work in Kingston will be gratefully remembered.

May Keep Heads Covered.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 20.—The department of interior has recognized the claims of many religious sects which make it imperative for female members to wear a headpiece, and in registering female German aliens has permitted the registrants to keep their heads covered in posing for their photograph on their identification card. All United States marshals have been notified that where such a regulation is prescribed by any members of any religious community or denomination, the wearing of the headpiece as part of the habit will be permitted in taking the photograph.

O'LEARY EXPLAINS DISAPPEARANCE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 20.—Jeremiah O'Leary, noted Irish agitator, today explained his recent disappearance and flight to the Pacific coast by declaring that he had suffered two nervous breakdowns and a complication of diseases from overwork.

He made the explanation while testifying in the trial of his brother, John J. O'Leary, accused of conspiracy in aiding Jeremiah O'Leary to escape. Jeremiah O'Leary will be tried soon on a charge of treason.

O'Leary said that the overwork he had done in the last presidential campaign.

"I worked so hard that I suffered a nervous breakdown," he testified. "I learned from a doctor that I had Bright's disease and chronic appendicitis. I was told I would have to go to a sanitarium."

In his testimony he said:

"If I believe I'm right, no one on God's earth can stop me."

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dorsey have announced the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Louise, to John Ryan of Philadelphia, formerly of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Kitch were married at a surprise by their many friends at their home, 125 Clifton avenue, on Wednesday evening in celebration of the 15th anniversary of their marriage. An enjoyable evening was spent by all present. Congratulations being extended to them by the guests at their departure for their homes during the week.

Stanley-Nichols.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at Lake Katrine on Wednesday, June 19, when Elizabeth Jane Stanley, only daughter of William Stanley, was married to Charles Edward Nichols, Jr. of Kingston. The house was charming with its lush decorations of pink and white roses, with ferns and palms. Ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur Cole of the First Baptist Church of Kingston. They were attended by Miss Jane Terwilliger and Charles Burger of Kingston. The bride and her attendants were gown in white crepe de chine and carried immense bouquets of pink and white roses. Wedding march was played by Mrs. David Kleffer. Guests included Alfred Paber of Brooklyn, Mrs. Girard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Nichols and wife, Walter Wright and wife, David Boyd and wife of Kingston and Howard Osterhout of Flatbush. They received a number of pretty and useful gifts, including rugs, china, cut glass and silver. They took the 6 o'clock south bound train for a short wedding trip and on their return will make their home in Lake Katrine, where the groom has a responsible position with Frink Brothers, the general merchants. They have a number of friends in Kingston.

Lantern Fly a Brilliant Insect.

The lantern fly of South America is said to be by far the most brilliant of all luminous insects. It sometimes measures more than 2 inches in length. The shape of the head is very curious. It is furnished with a hollow transparent snout nearly the length of the body, whence comes the lamplike light.

DR. STERN HAS FIRST AID CLASS

This class has been receiving instruction for some time past in home care of the sick under the direction of Miss Lampman, the trained nurse. The class are now taking up first aid under Dr. Stern's instructions.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, June 20.—There was a vigorous demand for stocks at the opening of the stock market today and during the first fifteen minutes nearly all of the leading issues made gains of a point or more.

Preferred was the most prominent feature of the early trading movement up to 10:15. There was active trading in the steel industry generally with American Locomotive moving up one point to 67 1/2. U. S. Steel rose 1/2 to 104 1/2, and fractional gains were made in Inland, Bethlehem and Baldwin. C. & G. Steel made the greatest gain advancing 2 1/2 to 98 1/2. Tobacco Products rose 1 1/2 to 65 1/2. Pittsburgh and West Virginia rose 1 1/2 to 26 1/2, and the preferred 1 1/2 to 27 1/2. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was exceptionally weak, falling 1/2 to 40 and the five percent notes dropped over one point to 94 1/2. International Paper was again in demand, advancing 1 1/2 to 49 1/2. Pressed Steel rose 1/2 to 64 1/2 and American Sumatra rose 2 points to 140 1/2.

After a show of strength in the first half hour the market tone became irregular with most issues tending downward. Marine Preferred, after selling up to 104 1/2, dropped to 102 1/2 and Steel Common fell from 103 1/2 to 103 1/2. International Paper dropped from 10 1/2 to 35 1/2. The stock market closed strong today. Government bonds unchanged. Railway and other bonds irregular.

Quotations given by C. D. Halsey & Co., 15 Broad street, New York City, branch office, Warren building, 260-2 Fair street, Kingston, N. Y.

W. U. TELEGRAMS SEIZED BY GOV'T

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 20.—Acting under orders from Postmaster General Burleson, post office inspectors in this city, Boston, Baltimore and Washington today seized thousands of night letters which the Western Union Telegraph Company was alleged to be attempting to deliver by messenger instead of over their wires.

It is charged by federal officials that Western Union messengers carrying these night letters, have travelled from Washington to Baltimore, New York and Boston on passes issued by the government.

In sending the letters by messenger the company violated the federal statute which makes it a criminal offense for a telegraph company to interfere with the government mail service monopoly. The penalty for each offense is a fine of $500 and six months imprisonment for the guilty officials.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

One man alone could not build a city or a great railroad. One man alone would find it hard to build a house or a bridge. That I may have bread, men have sowed and reaped, men have made plows and threshers, men have built mills and mined coal. Men have made shoes and kept stores. As we learn better how to work together, the welfare of our country is advanced. William J. Hutchins.

Police headquarters received word at 5:15 p.m. that a man in a car, driver for Phillips' garage on Broadway, was taking the Ford car stolen by two soldiers from in front of the residence of John Goldrick on Delaware avenue. The other car was abandoned along the road between Hurley and Stone Ridge. The police are of the impression that the car was taken by two soldiers who were in a hurry to get back to camp as they had over-stayed their leave of absence.

While it is being laid on Downs street and it is expected that that street will be completed by Monday or Tuesday of next week.

There were no cases in police court this morning.

The police are searching for John C. Landrum, 29, who was arrested on Albany avenue Saturday evening by Officer Soper on a charge of disorderly conduct. It is claimed he was drunk and singing—that is making a noise supposed to be "singing"—at the top of his voice. He was paroled until Monday morning but failed to "keep the date" in police court.

The extremely cool nights so far this month have not agreed with the war gardens to any extent.

Those who have doffed the "heavies" for the "light" find that it works better during the day than at night, especially if they have to be out on the street during the evening.

PUBLIC HEALTH
NURSE'S WORK

Most important among the things a community can do to save its quota of the hundred thousand lives is to protect its children by employing public health nurses, according to a statement issued today by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor. Many parents have learned from the weighing and measuring test, which is being carried on in Kingston as a part of the national test of the welfare of American children, of their children's special needs. They can do much to meet these needs and obtain more exact information as to the average of their health by the part of public health nurses, who can look after the well being of the children found by the test to be undernourished, and protect from illness other children who are now well.

England has set it as her standard to have one nurse for every 500 births reported annually. While the act in force in England requires that a public health official be notified within 24 hours after the birth of a child, and an adequate force of nurses, it is possible for every mother to receive the immediate attention which may be the means of saving a child's life.

New Zealand, which has secured and maintained for a number of years lower infant mortality rates than those recorded by any other country, has made special effort to send throughout its islands qualified nurses, whose duty it is to give gratuitous instruction, advice and assistance on matters affecting the health and well being of women and their children.

New Zealand's infant death rate is scarcely more than half that of the United States. Even under the strain of war, England required her rate in 1916 to 9 points below that for the United States birth registration area. Both are employing public health nurses to a large extent. It is on the basis of these facts that the children's bureau urges that as a part of the work to save 100,000 babies, every community shall have public health nurses available for service and instruction.

PORK DISPLACES
BEEF ON MENUS

By Leaps and Bounds Orders for Loin Take Place of Beef—Curious Misunderstanding by Hotel Men—Fear of Beef Gluttony a Paradoxical Fact.

An inquiry made among hotels and restaurants and the butchers in the city to find out as near as possible how well the recent order of the government restricting consumption of beef is being observed, resulted in bringing out a few interesting facts. There is no doubt there is a general compliance with the order not only at the restaurants and hotels but among the families.

There has been for several days a run of eaters into the office of W. C. Shafer, the county food administrator. They want to know what the government order really requires. Some claim to be mixed up on one thing and some another. In the case of one hotel keeper he wanted to know if the order forbids serving one particular guest more than once a week. He thought he could serve beef as many times as new guests come in. Another was certain that the government requires all hotel and restaurant menus to serve beef as directed at the same meal and on the same day. He was quite indignant when told that hadn't anything to do with it. He was sure he would lose customers unless all served beef at the same meal in the week.

Would Stop Steak Gluttons.

"They will come to my place and get steaks at one meal and when they are told they can't be served again until next week they will go to another hotel or restaurant where steaks are served at another meal. In that way anyone can have steaks nearly every meal. I am sure the government won't allow that."

Others were sure that Hamburg steaks were not included nor beef steaks because they are not specifically mentioned.

Here is the exact language of the essential part of the order from which it will be seen that it is hard to understand how the order can be misunderstood. While the order does not specifically annul the porkless day order its wording makes it clear that porkless days are no longer required. The fact is the demand for pork is going up in bounds.

Effect on Hotels.

The order forbids all hotels and restaurants to place on their menus or serve boiled beef more than two meals, beefsteak more than one meal and roast beef more than one meal a week. Householders should not buy more than 1 1/2 pounds of clear beef a week a person. The reference to householders is not interpreted as an absolute command though most families will accept it as that and all patriotic families will observe it so far as possible. The exceptions would be regarded as valid only in cases of sickness where an invalid might be depending on the use of beef for the necessary nourishment.

Soups a Problem.

At the Stuyvesant Hotel Mrs. Carrie C. Winn, who superintends personally the dining service, said: "The greatest hardship to us will be in the lack of beef and beef bones for soup. Beef is the basis of our best soups though other material is necessary for a change."

As for menus, there are many things that can be served in the place of beef, such as lamb, veal, pork and pork chops, chicken, turkey, fish, etc. Since the order permits beef to be served in three styles at altogether four meals a week there is no real hardship in observing that part of the order. The only unfortunate result I see in it is that in restricting beef it will send up the prices of other meats. If there is any profiteering done in those lines I hope the government will find it out and go after the guilty persons."

At the Hotel Vilter the reply to inquiry was: "We will strictly comply with the order of the government as we have always done. There is no alternative. It will not be hard on us. The guest usually takes what is served to him without grumbling, at least our guests do. So far we have heard no serious complaints from any of them."

No Help From Lobsters.

At the West Shore Hotel on Railroad avenue, Landlord Possner is keeping strictly to the order. This discommodates many of his patrons, who call for evening meals and have largely ordered the b. g. western steaks. On the other hand many make it the point to come on the day steaks can be served. It has increased his business in fish. Lobsters and scallops not being readily obtained this year as formerly do not furnish the popular substitute for steaks that his trade would readily take to.

Chicken Helps Out.

Carl G. Fischer on East Strand, said: "Of course I shall observe the order to the letter, though beef in several styles constitutes a large part of the meals I serve. The government, however, has taken the right course in one respect. Restricting the use of beef at least fifty per cent. in my case even more, will doubtless even up the market supply of the several meats that go on to hotel tables. I have always served largely fish, corned beef, pork, ham and bacon as well as beef and in changing bill of fare by cutting out beef part of the time I don't think that I shall suffer any hardships under this order. By serving chicken twice a week I help largely in relieving the market in the supplies of other meats."

What of Delicacies.

One effect of the order that is perhaps not generally considered is that it will turn many consumers to the use of delicacies, meats that are cooked and sold over the counter in various forms. Kettner at 325 Broadway, the principal delicatessen place in the city, says that he has already noticed an increased demand for delicatessens in meats, both cooked and pickled. Cold beef sandwiches [that are popular for hurried lunches]
